

Baudouin Says U. S. Must Take Lead for Peace

Belgium's King Addresses Joint Congress Session

Washington — King Baudouin told congress today the free world looks to the United States for leadership in averting war.

"Where better can the free peoples of the free world look for the averting of war and death, than to your nation, so vibrant with the love of life," the Belgian monarch said.

"It is unthinkable that those who spend so much to save life would ever think to destroy it."

Red Imperialism

In an 800-word address to a joint session of the senate and house, he said he had come to this country "to register the solidarity" between the people of Belgium and the United States.

Without mentioning communism by name, Baudouin warned against this new kind of imperialism.

"The older imperialism sought the conquest of lands; the new seeks the mastery of intellects," he said.

The king said his country is determined to permit the people of the Congo, Belgium's rich African colony, to choose their future destiny.

"As soon as they mature, as soon as they have received the loving care in education that we can give them, we shall launch them forth on their own enterprise and independent existence," Baudouin declared.

Britain Gets Ready to Send Up Satellites

London — Prime Minister Macmillan said today Britain is getting ready to enter the artificial earth satellite field.

Macmillan said Britain may send satellites into orbit either with the cooperation of its British commonwealth partners, or with the United States.

"We therefore plan to send to Washington a team of experts to discuss possible Anglo-American cooperation," the prime minister told the house of commons.

"We are also opening consultations with other commonwealth countries."

Plans Instruments

Macmillan said British experts are studying the possibility of adapting as satellite projectors military rockets now under development in this country.

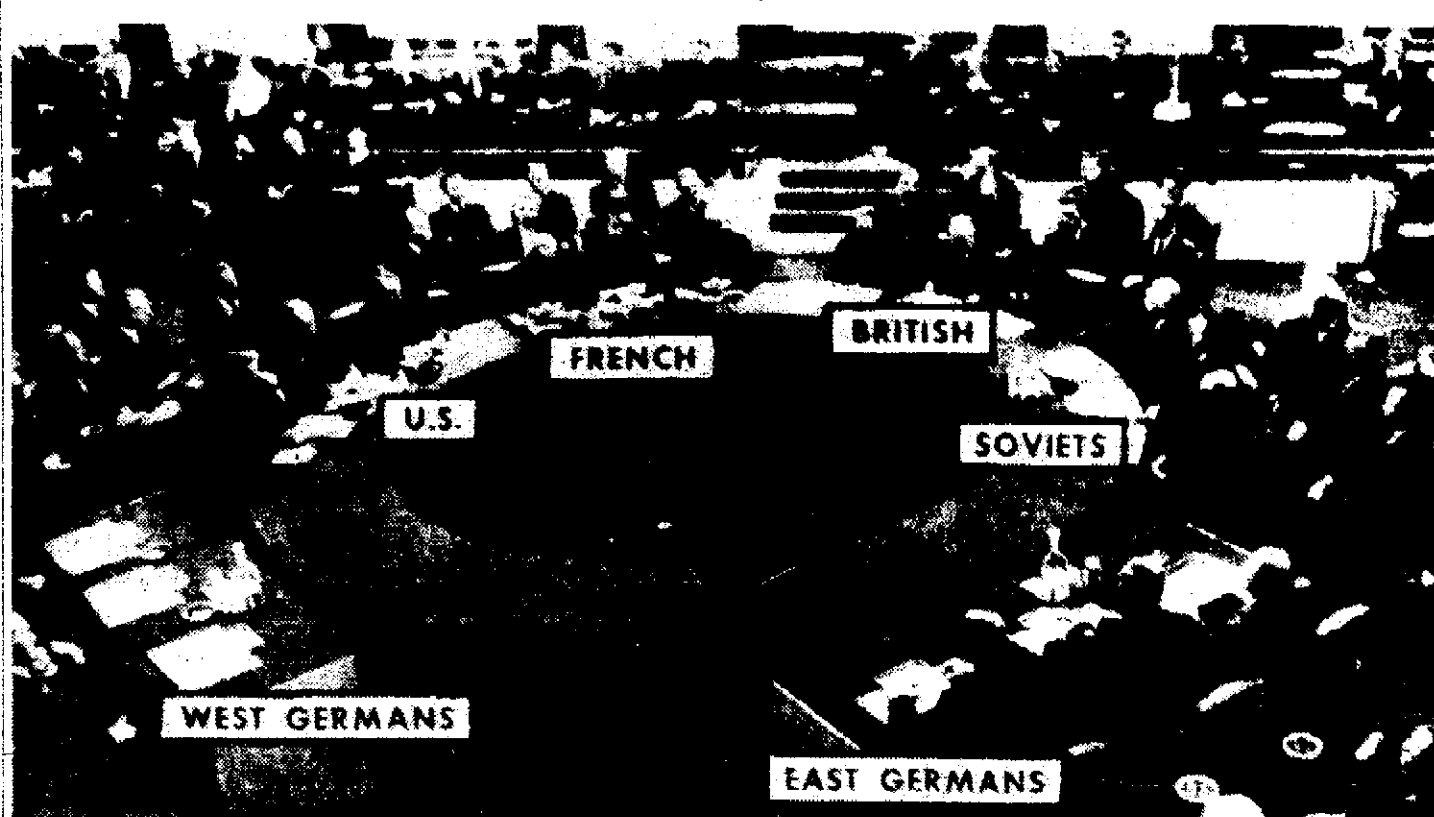

Britain has arranged to start work immediately on the construction of the instruments to be carried by the satellites.

The instrument program will be supervised by a British national committee of space research being set up by the Royal Society for the Advancement of Science. It will be headed by Prof. H.S. W. Massey. He will head the team of experts going to Washington.

Macmillan said he was unable to estimate what it would cost Britain to put a satellite in orbit if it decided to use a British rocket.

"At the moment we are spending substantial but modest sums, more in hundreds of thousands of pounds than millions, for design of the instruments and to make the necessary designs for modification of the military rocket should it be decided to use it," he explained.

Russia Seeking Big 4 Bids To Poland, Czechoslovakia

Big Four Foreign Ministers reached this solution for seating arrangements for their Geneva conference. Russia demanded a round conference table with both East and West Germany participating. They got the round table and space—unused—for the Germans. The German delegations have no voice in the decisions of the Big Four and they are seated at separate desks away from the unused area of the round table.

Orders Refund Of $1 Million To Violators

Judge Rules Miami Courts Assessed Penalties Illegally

Miami — A circuit judge has ordered the city of Miami to refund more than a million dollars to traffic violators.

Circuit Judge Robert H. Anderson said yesterday violators were illegally fined since metropolitan government took over in Dade county with its 6 municipalities March 1, 1958.

He ordered an immediate shutdown of Miami's traffic courts and labeled all Miami traffic convictions null and void since the March, 1958, date.

City attorneys said they will immediately appeal the decision. Miami courts will continue to try and fine violators until the Florida Supreme court rules, they said.

Had No Ordinance

After metropolitan government took over, Judge Anderson said, the city of Miami was left with no ordinance upon which defendants could be tried for traffic violations.

His decree stated that for Miami to keep traffic fine money it collected after it lost jurisdiction "would be unconscionable under the long established equitable principles of unjust enrichment."

The circuit court order stemmed from attempts by two traffic violators to get back $65 they paid in fines. They are Oise Ketton, fined $50 for drunken driving, and Gene C. Russo, a telephone repairman who mailed in $15 on a citation for running a stop sign.

If approved by the state supreme court, the decision could heap more woes on Miami in the form of false arrest suits and damage claims for court costs, towing charges and bail bond fees.

West Sure To Reject Demand

Geneva — The Soviet Union today proposed immediate admission of communist Poland and Czechoslovakia at the foreign ministers conference. The west refused and the formal session ended with the dispute still unsettled.

Geneva — The Soviet Union today demanded that two of her communist satellites — Poland and Czechoslovakia — be invited to join the Big Four foreign ministers' conference.

The Soviet demand had been expected and the western foreign ministers were ready for another wrangle with Russia's Andrei Gromyko.

Sec. of State Christian A. Herter, British Foreign Sec. Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were reported firmly agreed to reject the Soviet demand.

A Russian spokesman said Gromyko had suggested informally to the western ministers that the communist side be enlarged but they "did not display a positive attitude."

New Delay Seen

The spokesman said Gromyko therefore would submit his demand formally at the conference's second session today.

Gromyko is the conference chairman for the day. The session originally had been scheduled to hear opening statements of policy from the four ministers. But it appeared that once more the conference would be delayed by controversy over procedure.

In announcing the move to seat Poland and Czechoslovakia, Soviet Press Officer Mikhail Kharlamov said "the Soviet delegation proposes the full and equal participation of both delegations in the conference."

A solid allied front yesterday beat back Gromyko's drive to give communist East Germany full and equal membership. East and West Germany were held to the role of advisers, though given the right to speak out on issues if all the Big Four agreed.

Open For Discussion

Western diplomats said Herter, Lloyd and Couve de Murville want to keep the conference basically 4-power. The three were represented as willing, however, to bring in Poland, Czechoslovakia, Italy and possibly other countries later for discussion of questions of immediate interest to them.

Russia's unfolding long range strategy apparently is to maintain heavy pressure on the west now and in a prospective summit conference to accept communist domination of East Germany and all of eastern Europe.

The western Big Three ministers and West German Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano met at Herter's office at noon for strategy talk in advance of the afternoon session with Gromyko at the palace of nations.

Then, Herter had a lunch-conference with Gromyko at the Soviet minister's residence, Villa Rose.

Explains Position

Herter was accompanied to the luncheon by Assistant Secy. of State Livingston T. Merchant, Assistant Secy. of Defense John N. Irwin II, Llewellyn Thompson, U. S. ambassador to Moscow, and Counselor Frederick Reinhardt.

Seek Ban on Beer Sales to Minors

Council Votes May 20 on Action of Ordinance Committee

Sale of beer to minors under 21 will be unlawful in Appleton if the city council May 20 approves its welfare and ordinance committee's recommendation.

Committeemen Monday voted to make the recommendation after a lengthy discussion on opposition to teenage taverns by Ald. Robert J. Stumpf and two Protestant church groups at the last council meeting.

See Prohibition Return They attributed the resolutions to petitioners who earlier protested renewal of a teenage tavern license for the Sugar Bowl, 1216 S. Oneida street.

The ordinance would forbid sale of beer to all minors, unless accompanied by parent, guardian or spouse, not only in teenage taverns, but also in groceries, supermarkets or drug stores. As drafted by City Atty. Jury, it is modeled after a similar ordinance passed recently in Neenah.

Committeemen said the move will not put any beer-only taverns out of business. Owners of such places will be able to obtain the special beer — only licenses. They would not be able to sell beer to their usual clientele.

Tavern league spokesmen told the committee the ban would force young adults to the highways and secluded places late at night, returning to the 18-to-21 age group the lawlessness of the national prohibition of the 1920s and 1930s.

Assemblyman and Ald. Kenneth Priebe told the committee Outagamie county law.

Postponement for Nuclear Test Talks

Geneva — Big three negotiations for a man on nuclear weapons tests recessed today for up to four weeks.

Opening of the east-west foreign ministers conference prompted agreement among U. S., British and French delegates to put off further work on the test ban for a while, but to reconvene not later than June 8.

Surrender in Prison Riot

14-Hour Siege Ends at Tennessee Prison Farm

Fort Pillow, Tenn. — Ten rioting convicts surrendered peacefully at 10:30 a.m.

Neither of the two guards held as hostages was injured.

State Institutions Commissioner Keith Hampton said he had agreed to remove the discontented prisoners to the main prison in Nashville and not take off any of their "good time" credit.

Fort Pillow Prison Farm, Tenn. — Faced by uneasy stalemate, convicts who held two prison farm guards as hostage busily strengthened the barricades at their besieged dormitory today.

Keith Hampton, state commissioner of institutions, flew in from Nashville to confer with leaders of the revolt.

Hampton said the convicts at first agreed to accept solitary confinement as punishment for the riot with the state agreeing that their "good time" would not be touched.

Before the agreement could be finally settled, Hampton said, the convicts upped their demands to no punishment whatever, plus insistence that Juvenile Delinquency—!

Experts Think Many Adults Making Scapegoat of Youth

BY G. K. HODENFIELD

Washington — American adults are exploiting the juvenile delinquent.

Some are cashing in financially on youth's natural rebellion, all the while bemoaning its behavior.

They are giving the adolescent new standards of toughness, then crying, "I told you so," when he tries to live up to them.

They are neither ready, willing nor able to understand the problem; many of their complaints reflect more adult irritability than juvenile delinquency.

Man Reported Missing Says He Was Kidnaped

Janessville — A 22-year-old Rock county man, missing since Saturday when finding of his car and fishing equipment near Bass creek led to fears that he had drowned, was back in Janessville today while authorities checked his report of a knife-point kidnapping.

At Berlin, Police Chief Jerry Beck said that the man appeared at a rural garage Monday night and identified himself as Ted Hawke of Afton. Beck said Hawke was very nervous, and told of two men in a red and black 1955 Plymouth forcing him into their car Saturday.

He was vague on details, Beck said. Rock county authorities took him back to Janessville early today.

Dragging operations had been carried out on the creek Sunday and Monday, after finding of Hawke's car.

Find Some Snags in Seaway Operation

Traffic Jams Caused by Lingering Ice in St. Lawrence River Cost Millions of Dollars, Owners Say

Chicago—A large Ocean ship, venturing into the Great Lakes for the first time with opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, have run into some stormy operating and financial weather.

By far the most agonizing thing for shippers has been the traffic jams caused by late lingering ice in the St. Lawrence river. The reason: Lost operating days cost money.

One line's operations chief, asked to estimate losses represented by the pileup of ships in southwestern Lake Ontario at the Welland canal—through which all shipping must pass to reach Lake Erie and other lakes—said:

Millions of Dollars
"I've been biting my nails for three weeks. I'd be tearing my hair if I dared face it. Millions and millions of dollars; that's as close as I can come."

There have been other troubles, especially in finding berths for ships, and in handling of cargo.

But, nobody's throwing up his hands in despair—yet.

Many of the kinks can be ironed out in time—some problems are being attacked with determination. As for the jam which has had as many as 50 ships backed up at the Welland canal, many shippers are hopeful that it won't happen again. The jam of 50 ships Sunday was the greatest recorded at the canal.

"If the river channel had been opened 10 days earlier, it wouldn't have happened," one shipper said. "And one thing should be said right now: The lock operators have been doing an admirable job."

Few Complaints
The Great Lakes ports have presented a variety of situations for seaway ships. At Cleveland which has plenty of deep water berthage, there have been few complaints.

Chicago, which prides itself on building its new Lake Calumet port to handle foreign ship traffic, has been handling its arrivals with fair dispatch. But there have been snags.

A number of Great Lakes ports are closed to deep draft ships for lack of facilities. Some ports aren't equipped for the traffic their economic status warrants.

Dock Facilities
At Detroit, the harbor terminal couldn't accommodate the rush of ships. Yesterday, four were at berths, and four others lay in the Detroit river awaiting space.

At Buffalo, problems include shallow harbor, inadequate dock facilities and inexperienced dock crews. One ship captain who had allotted four days for unloading steel at Buffalo had to revise his schedule to 10 days.

There have been mishaps, which might have happened regardless of port help and facilities. Ships have scraped dock walls and missed channels.

Authorities are moving purposefully to correct defects which have hampered shipping. Canada has taken firm steps to ban ships lacking canal handling gear from the Welland canal.

Meanwhile, for international deep-draft shipping, it isn't all smooth sailing in the Great Lakes.

Union Official Fights Sentence
Chicago — Eugene C. James, a union official sentenced to three years in prison for evading federal taxes, plans to appeal his conviction.

James, 54, who unsuccessfully contended the money was not taxable because it was stolen from his union and not earned income, was allowed to remain free on $15,000 bond pending the appeal.

Judge Joseph Sam Perry of U.S. District court, who imposed the sentence Monday, convicted James of evading $562,982 in taxes on $742,205 from 1951 to 1954 when James was international vice president and secretary of the laundry, dry cleaning and dye-house workers.

James, still secretary-treasurer of the union's Chicago Local 46, is fighting extradition to Essex county, N. J., where he is charged with embezzlement of union welfare funds.

Eau Claire Man Dies In Rifle Accident
Eau Claire — Conrad Elenson, 53, Eau Claire, was fatally injured Monday night when a .22 caliber rifle stored on a basement shelf discharged as he pushed it aside in search of an electric drill, police said. The bullet struck him in the left temple.

Nelson Picks Democrats for State Posts

Continues Filling Positions Held by GOP Adherents

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Gov. Nelson Monday continued to put Democrats into state administrative and policy-making offices long held by adherents of the Republican party.

Included in a batch of relatively minor nominations by the governor Monday were the choices of Howard Meister, one of the principal Democratic organization leaders in Milwaukee, to a six year term on the State Real Estate Brokers board, and Clemens Michalski, sheriff and widely known Milwaukee politician, to a seat on the Wisconsin Crime Laboratory board.

Meister will succeed Herbert Ganser of Milwaukee, also a broker. Michalski will replace William J. Gleiss of Sparta.

District Head

Meister is a congressional district chairman of the Democratic party in Milwaukee county, powerful center of the party's vote strength, and has figured prominently as a campaign manager, most recently for Sen. Henry Maier, the Democratic minority leader in the state senate. He is 33.

Michalski was U. S. marshal for eastern Wisconsin before he was elected sheriff in 1956.

The governor also announced the appointment of a 41-year old University of Wisconsin professor and reserve officer as his military aide without compensation. Former governors customarily named a member of their executive office staffs to that position. Prof. Robert Hughes is deputy commander for the 84th Infantry division of the U. S. army reserve.

Reappoints Six

Nelson reappointed six members of the state board of nursing, including Miss Sylvia E. Haubrich of the Bell Memorial Hospital staff at Green Bay, and named Miss Jeannette R. Welsch of St. Francis Hospital at Milwaukee as a new member of that supervisory agency.

Robert F. Goodman, a Racine lawyer, was appointed to the Commission on Human Rights, and Dr. R. J. Mashuk, a Milwaukee dentist, was named to succeed Dr. F. L. Weston of Madison on the state board of veterans' affairs.

'Right to Know' Statute Signed by Governor of Hawaii

Honolulu — Republican Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii Monday signed a freedom-of-information bill passed April 30 by the democratic-controlled legislature.

The law requires that records and meetings of government agencies be open wherever possible to keep the public informed of government activity.

There had been no Hawaiian law requiring government bodies to open their records or meetings to the public.

The measure was sponsored by Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism society.

Tempers Flare During Stormy Ravine Hearing

Family May Be Evicted From Tents on Site of Proposed Dodger Baseball Park

Los Angeles — Now the embattled Arechigas may be a fter reporting threatening telephone calls.

The Arechigas put up the tent after being evicted bodily from two houses they occupied in Chavez ravine, being cleared for a $12 million Los Angeles Dodger ballpark and recreation area.

After a stormy hearing Monday, the Los Angeles city council ordered an investigation of the Arechigas tent.

If the tent is deemed unsanitary, then the battling Arechigas will have to clear out. But no one believes they'll do it without a fight.

300 Supporters
Three hundred persons attended yesterday's hearing, most of them supporting the Arechigas. At times, they became so vocal that police reserves were called to keep order.

The city fathers heard charges of anarchy, communism, comparisons with the Spanish inquisition and Hitler's Germany and a demand that Mayor Norris Poulson "be dragged if necessary" to the next council meeting.

Poulson appeared at the end of the hearing—but only to read a statement accusing the council of staging a "demagogic show." He was roundly booed by the vocal 300.

Councilwoman Boos
Councilwoman Rosalind Wyman, an ardent Dodger booster, was told by one of the Arechigas: "My sister's husband was killed in the war, but you came in and tore down these houses."

Boos each time she tried to speak, Mrs. Wyman left the chamber, visibly upset. She fled of water.

Drop Charges Against Man

Had Been Accused of Accepting Embezzled Money From Mother

Richland Center — A charge accusing Jack Bauman, 38, with receiving money embezzled by his mother was dismissed in circuit court here Monday.

Leo Lownik, attorney for Bauman, contended his client had not committed a crime in Wisconsin. Bauman was in Miami, Fla., and $2,900 he was accused of accepting was telegraphed to him, Lownik said.

Judge Richard Orton of Lancaster, granted the motion for dismissal.

On Probation

The mother, Mrs. Blanche Bauman, 67, was placed on probation for two years following her court appearance last month. She was ordered to make restitution of more than $8,000 she embezzled from an auto agency where she was employed as an accountant.

Bauman had pleaded innocent to the charge against him, contending he did not know the money he received was stolen.

Authorities held Bauman for Illinois police on charges of leaving Chicago hotels without paying his bills.

Drop in Unemployment May Encourage Lower Government Spending

Jobless Decline Gives Republican Congressmen New Talking Point

BY JACK BELL

Washington — A sharp drop in unemployment gave congressional Republicans a new talking point today in their efforts to scale down Democratic spending proposals aimed at producing more jobs.

Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, Republican senate leader, predicted that a 735,000 decline in the number of jobless in April will slow down the opposition party's drive to enact housing, depressed areas and airports legislation. These bills call for much larger outlays than President Eisenhower proposed.

Dirksen said the 65 million Americans reported by the commerce and labor departments to have been at work in April—a record high for that month—also has cast doubt on the fate of a senate-passed bill to set up a commission to investigate unemployment.

Democrat Agrees
Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, acting senate Democratic leader, agreed in a separate interview that the employment report carried good news.

But Mansfield said he doesn't think the April increase means that the country is out of the economic woods. He said there still is need for the Democratic job-making measures the senate has passed but on which the house has not yet acted.

Mansfield conceded, however, that the proposal for a 60-day investigation of unemployment by an 11-member commission may need some amending. It was sponsored in the senate by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, who currently is taking a short vacation.

Still Need Probe
We still need an investigation of unemployment conditions, but perhaps on a more permanent basis than 60 days," he said. "On June 1 there will be an additional million persons coming into the labor force in the form of school graduates."

He noted also there are pockets of permanent unemployment and said "the need for aid to depressed areas is just as great as it ever was."

Dirksen said the argument has been raised that, if there is to be an unemployment inquiry, the house ought to delay action on the housing, airport and depressed areas bills until after the survey is completed.

Firm Makes New Contact Lense Solution
Sunnyvale, Calif. — B. A. R. Hind Laboratories, Inc., which recently recalled all its wetting solutions for contact lenses, says it has distributed a new one which will be pink instead of green, and sterile.

The food and drug administration two weeks ago warned against use of one lot of the old solutions, saying it contained a potentially dangerous form of bacteria.

Harry W. Hind, president of the drug firm, said no blindness or infection had resulted from use of the old solution, but that all were recalled regardless of lot numbers.

Hind said the old product had been registered with the department of agriculture "on the previous advice of the FDA," which he said had never required sterility in the solution.

The new product is sterile, however, and has been given a pink tint instead of the old green color. There is no other difference from the old product, Hind said.

Mickey Rooney Ready For Fourth Divorce
Hollywood — A $300,000 property settlement has paved the way for Mickey Rooney's fourth divorce.

The pint-sized actor Monday agreed to pay actress Elaine Mahnkens $1,750 a month for 21 months. She also takes title to the couple's $100,000 home in the San Fernando valley.

Miss Mahnkens said she will charge mental cruelty when she files for divorce Monday.

Seek Ban on Beer Sales to Minors

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1 where reports had a girl too drunk to get into a car by herself. It turned out, Hanne-J. Cane and himself to help eliminate so-called teen bars. They are the source of most officers' problems, Priebe said he was told.

Small Percentage
Much of Appleton's current troubles Priebe believes, can be traced to closing teen taverns elsewhere. Appleton gets the troublemakers from those cities, accentuating the problem, he said.

Priebe and several other committeemen said they believe a small percentage of teenagers are creating the problems but most young adults are well disciplined and mannered. Stumpf said the action would meet the intent of his resolution at the last council meeting. He said some of the complaints probably could be ascribed to chronic complainers, but most of them could not.

One committeeman wanted to delay action for two weeks while the advice of a child psychiatrist is sought. But it was explained that there is just enough time left to get the new law on the books before the start of the new licensing year on July 1.

Campaign On
Norbert J. Grishaber, Sugar Bowl owner, Chairman Harold Hannemann explained, now wants a regular tavern license for his entire premises. Grishaber, Hannemann said intends to change the name of the place and to institute emphasis on a steak house.

Complaints against the Sugar Bowl, it was said, have taken on the appearance of a "get Grishaber" campaign. Sunday for example there were two complaints against the place and it was not even open it was said.

Another instance was cited

Called Unfair
"This is what I call being unfair," said Hannemann. No action was taken to grant Grishaber a regular tavern license. The number is controlled by state law, according to population but there are several available in Appleton.

Action will have to be taken at the next committee meeting so recommendations on all licenses can be made at the June 3 council meeting the deadline set by City Clerk Broehm, Hannemann said.

U. S. to Provide Bulk of Nuclear Fuel for IAEA

Vienna — The United States, Britain and Russia have agreed to deliver more than 11,154 pounds of nuclear fuels to the international atomic energy agency (IAEA). The Americans will put up 11,000 pounds.

W. Sterling Cole IAEA general director, announced today that the United States had pledged also to match any future offers received by the agency up to July 1, 1960.

Russia has agreed to deliver 110 pounds of uranium and Britain 44 Cole said. Sponsored by the U.N., IAEA is set up as a clearing house for atomic material and information to be used for peaceful purposes. The big powers are to contribute their knowledge, experts and resources to the agency for the benefit of underdeveloped countries.

The new conditions were rejected. Hampton said the convicts withdrew behind their barricade at the front door. One of them shouted, "Come in and get us."

The commissioner said the convicts were not going to dictate conditions.

"If we can't control those boys, we will have to close up and quit," he said. "They're going to come out one way or another. We can't let prisoners run the prison."

To complaints that prisoners had to work long hours in the fields, and often double time to and fro, Hampton about it for a long time. This Hampton was ordered to the scene by Gov. Buford Ellington last night, a few hours after the prisoners — some of them armed with knives — seized the dormitory.

Guards J. S. Voss, 46, and Hubert Neyman, 37, were inside the dorm when the uprising flared. The doors were quickly blocked and the trapped men gave up their bully clubs without a struggle.

No Sudden Decision

The primary spokesman for the convicts, Leonard Thompson, 26, of Minneapolis, Minn., presented the list of complaints, which ranged from bad food to alleged brutality.

Thompson, serving a stretch for burglary, said the revolt was not a sudden decision. "We tried letters of protest. We tried to let him know that we never got the fields, and often double time to and fro, Hampton about it for a long time. This

Santa Monica, Calif. — Italian Actress Pier Angeli is under orders to appear May 29 to answer why she shouldn't be cited for contempt of court.

Her former husband, Vic Damone, sought the contempt citation in court here yesterday. Miss Angeli flew to Europe April 14 with the couple's 3-year-old son. A few hours after Damone obtained a court order prohibiting her from taking the child out of the country.

Reds Lose a Round

The communists in both Russia and China are quite expert in the field of propaganda. They have scored many propaganda victories and all indications are they are making a close study of this subject and will depend heavily upon it to win the cold war. However, they go wrong occasionally and when they do it is good news for Americans because it usually means the Americans have beaten them at their own game.

It appears now that the Americans will score such a victory in the United States exhibition in Moscow next July. Announcement that the exhibition would include a typical United States home and a description of it brought loud propaganda outcries from soviet newspapers. The house to go on exhibition will cost $13,000 and will be furnished at a cost of $2,000. The soviet news story declares that "there is no more truth in showing this as a typical home of the American worker than, say, showing the Taj Mahal as the typical home of a Bombay textile worker or Buckingham Palace as the typical home of an English miner."

This of course was an extreme statement but the soviet press went on with more sarcasm such as "Everyone, of course, knows that the Pennsylvania miner or Indiana metal worker always comes home to an apartment with deep fitted carpets, and that textile workers of New England all have huge television sets, expensive radios, record players and tape recorders, all in fine cabinets."

"Many wives of American workers will be very surprised indeed to learn that their 'typical' kitchen is fully equipped with the most marvelous and latest automatic devices."

There was much more of the same and the Russians thought that story would have a good effect if it could be distributed widely in America for it was their belief that Americans would join in jeering at this home as a typical American home.

We are not prepared to say that the model home to be shown at the exhibit could properly be called a typical American home. But we are very sure it is much closer to being a typical American home than it is to being as far out of reach of the typical American workman as is the Taj Mahal, or Buckingham Palace being a typical workman's home in India or England.

Although those in charge of propaganda for the soviets are not aware of it, the fact is that American workmen have the best housing of any workmen in the world. As pointed out by the president of the concern that is pre-cutting the house for shipment to Moscow, a man earning about $100 a week could afford the house to be placed on exhibit. Many American workmen have such houses, some have better houses and better furnishings.

Sylvia Porter, the financial columnist, recently reported that the average family in the United States today has an income of about $6,220 per year. That is an income of almost $120 a week so that the American home to be exhibited in Moscow will be within the means of the average American family. It should be noted of course that many factors besides the weekly wage are to be considered in estimating what sort of housing a family can afford. A wage earner getting $100 a week in Appleton, for example, can afford a better home than a wage earner in New York who gets that amount.

American workmen whom the soviet press seeks to influence will be well aware of their neighbors, many of whom on earnings of less than $100 a week have better furnished homes than the one described and furthermore they frequently may have a summer cottage, also well furnished, a power boat and TV and the many other items which the communists listed as incredible. This is one propaganda victory we think the Russians have lost.

Approves Single Civil Defense Coordinator for City and County

Editor Post-Crescent:

The decision of the county board's executive committee and the mayor of Appleton to jointly approve the hiring of a full time civil defense coordinator for Appleton and Outagamie county is surely a blessing. This is an example of how a municipality and county can and will work together, something that should always prevail in our governmental systems.

I have always been firm in the belief that there should be a full time director for civil defense, that county and city and villages work together on the problem and that a plan for Outagamie county civil defense be established to govern its activities.

After three years of action we are going to realize all three with the end result being that you, the people, will have an efficient and active civil defense throughout the county. The implementation of a county plan and its effect towards providing adequate protection and programming for the people who live therein will become obvious.

The most important thing is that you and your family become aware of the problem and undertake measures to learn about civil defense and how you fit in. Also how you can help it isn't the apathy that kills a good thing it is rather lack of knowledge. This is why the Boys Scouts helped me to present booklets last fall, why the radio has consistently presented helpful hints, why the press published the time article they did in series, and why I have tried to send literature to the people. Even today the Appleton Business and Professional Women's group is making the booklet "The National Plan" available to the public so that you will be informed. The important thing is stay informed.

The closeness of tornadoes and their destruction in villages and cities so close to us should help us to consider civil defense as we would consider our medical and life insurance policies.

I sincerely hope that this is the attitude that will prevail amongst all of us and I myself shall forever help wherever I can in the civil defense program. I shall continue to keep interest in civil defense by whatever means I can and I'm sure I can say that as an individual, you with the responsibilities of your family at hand will also insure that you will be prepared if a disaster should strike our community.

Our Editorial Criticizing Sen. Proxmire Answered

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Fellow-editors and readers may be interested, as I was, in Sen. William Proxmire's comment on a recent critical editorial in the Post-Crescent. To quote him:

"I removed Sen. Johnson from a picture in my newsletter simply because he had nothing to do with the purely Wisconsin story illustrated by the picture. No one knows better than newspapers that this is a normal editing function and that the more people you have in a picture of limited size the less value it is from both a photographic and news standpoint."

"As for the second item, Ellen's column does not go out under my franking privilege. A postage stamp is affixed to every envelope. This is a strict rule, and barring the non-likely human error on a few envelopes during the course of several mailings, I am sure it is being carried out to the letter without exception."

Might it not be of value to hear occasionally from the Post-Crescent about the larger, more vital national and international problems with which our senator is concerned? His work for instance, on the important committee on agriculture and forestry.

Cemetery Shrubbery Mutilated

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of May 15 1939

On Monday morning two young women were brought before Justice Ryan and fined for willfully and wantonly mutilating choice shrubbery in Riverside Cemetery.

It is the intention of persons having charge of all our cemeteries to prosecute every one caught plucking flowers or shrubs in those sacred grounds. The law is very severe.

If every good citizen to whose knowledge may come any desecration of a cemetery will make a complaint promptly to a justice, this barbarous and outrageous practice may be entirely broken up.

Gov. Nelson Breaks With an Old Tradition

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — The recent appointment by Gov. Nelson of two new members of the board of regents of state colleges is the first break, cautiously and calculatingly framed, with what has been called a "tradition" but which might more accurately be called a bad habit in state administration.

Wyngaard

For most of the last three decades governors have been appointing residents of the college cities for seats on the governing board of the colleges, with the exception of a couple that are reserved for the state at large through the circumstance that the board's membership is larger than the total of the colleges under its jurisdiction.

It is not quite clear how the habit started, but perhaps it was a natural one. Earlier in their history the colleges were local institutions for the most part, and regional colleges at best. They were called "normal schools" until quite recently and some persons of middle age and above persist in calling them that even today, to the annoyance of their faculties and their presidents.

IT WAS LOGICAL

The local dentist or banker was readily available for consultation with the local president and business manager. The local lawyer or dentist or banker also liked the idea of being a regent of the college and employed all of his political influence to get the seat.

On the whole, moreover, the men and women chosen have been earnest, useful and productive officers.

No human beings are quite as prone to habit as are politicians. What was started by one governor a long time ago was continued by another and yet another, down through the decades until it came to be an unwritten law.

An incident a decade ago seemed at the time to freeze the tradition for all time. A governor tried to name a non-resident of a college town to what had been a "local" seat on the governing board. The senate refused to confirm his nominee. No governor since — until Nelson's tentative effort of today — has thought to challenge the local regent idea again. (In point of fact the governor of a decade ago got credit for a heroism that didn't obtain. Unable or unwilling to choose among the aspirants in the locality involved, the governor thought to avoid the choice by naming one of his personal staff officers.)

It is noteworthy that Gov. Nelson applied a good deal of planning to his current selections. The nominees are the kind it will be extremely difficult for state senators to oppose. Moreover, they live fairly near the colleges involved — so that the break with the habit is not complete. It is a beginning of a new concept rather than an abrupt or defiant break with the old.

COLLEGES GROWING

There was a time when the general public scarcely recognized the colleges. The University of Wisconsin was the center of affairs in Wisconsin higher education. Today the colleges threaten to overtake the university in enrollment. Their curricula are expanding. The state has poured multimillion dollar sums into campus expansion in the full expectation and design that they will continue to grow in an era which tends to equate the significance of an institution with its enrollment statistics. The state colleges are cutting an ever greater swath in a higher educational system of the state which is one of the giant consumers of the taxpayer dollars.

Those dollars in ever mounting numbers come from all the people of Wisconsin, those which are served by the colleges, and all others.

The idea of a "local regent," therefore, has become more and more contradictory and it is the principle of the right of the whole state to govern these growing institutions that the governor has represented in his new choices.

'Fair Trade' Unfair in This Case

From The St. Louis Post-Dispatch

Pity Charles Hawkins, of Stockton, Calif. Hawkins has a headache and an upset stomach. The cause? Alka-Seltzer. He sold a bottle of it in his grocery for 14 cents less than the manufacturer, Miles California Co., thinks he should have sold it for — an offense for which he is serving 30 days in the San Joaquin county jail.

Believe it or not, that 14-cent reduction on a bottle of patent medicine made Charles Hawkins a law-breaker in California. The law he broke is called a fair-trade law, which also means it's fair to make Mr. Hawkins trade his position behind the counter for one behind bars on account of his heinous conduct in offering some fellow a few pennies' bargain. We beg leave to differ.

There are actually members of congress, among them Representative Oren Harris of Arkansas and Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who want to extend the advantages currently being enjoyed by Charlie Hawkins to cover everybody in all the states of the Union. And that's a fact. "Fair trade" is a right fancy idea, all right, but we can't say it looks overly fair to us, and don't know as we would care to trade.

No One Can Avoid This Tax

Most people are apt to look with complacency upon reports of government spending. For the ordinary citizen the income tax seems to be about the same regardless of what the government may undertake and no doubt there is a comfortable feeling that the big taxpayers are really carrying the load.

That this is not true is clearly proved in an unusual leaflet entitled "The Cruellest Tax" by Thurman Sensing which is distributed by the Southern States Industrial Council of Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Sensing makes it quite clear that inflation is a product of government spending, particularly the spending of borrowed money. We all know that the government is spending borrowed money and has been for many years and that the result has been inflation or depreciation of the value of the dollar. How much did that cost the American citizen? Mr. Sensing says that the total loss to depositors during the 12-year period up to 1933 due to the failures of banks amounted to $1,900,000,000. That was terrific but the loss due to inflation during the last 20 years has amounted to more than $184,000,000,000 or 97 times as much as the loss due to bank failures.

While the bank depositors put up a loud protest over their losses due to the failures, the same people and a great many others with them have said nothing at all about the much greater loss due to inflation. In fact, many of them are quite unaware of it. The loss due to inflation has come out of United States Savings Bonds, time deposits, savings in loan associations, life insurance, annuities and the Social Security trust and unemployment funds.

People with savings in banks and insurance and trust funds have the same amount there today as they had before inflation but it is not worth as much.

How this works is suggested by a quotation from Sen. Willis Robertson, (D-Va.) chairman of the Senate Banking committee. Sen. Robertson says, "If a man 35 years of age is paying for an insurance policy and he suffers a three per cent inflation a year, by the time he is 70 years of age the insurance has been used up. At three per cent a year, in 33 1/3 years, the insurance is gone." The same, of course, applies to all other savings and it is this threat that has caused many people to put their savings into stocks which they feel have a chance to increase in value and thus offset the ravages of inflation.

An additional burden on the taxpayer comes through the expense of borrowing money. This little leaflet points out that 25 years ago the total federal budget was $4,600,000,000. In 1960 the federal government will spend almost $8,000,000,000 for interest alone on money borrowed by the government. Thus out of every dollar the federal government spends, 10 cents goes toward paying interest on the national debt.

The only way to halt this unseen tax on the savings of the American people is to stop all unnecessary spending by the federal government. President Eisenhower has made a stand against inflationary spending and he is being supported in it by some members of congress but both he and they will need all the help the citizens of the country can give if this "cruellest tax" is to be lifted.

Why the Public Outcry?

We find it difficult indeed to understand the great public outcry in England over the hanging of one Ronald Marwood, convicted slayer of a policeman.

While making no attempt to justify capital punishment, there seems reason to believe British behavior in this instance was, at best, questionable.

Marwood was arrested, tried and convicted in the strict aura of British jurisprudence. He was, moreover, found guilty of one of the few crimes that can get the death penalty under Britain's modified capital punishment law.

Yet, crowds of over 1,000 persons milled about outside the walls of London's Pentonville prison on the night of the execution. Constables guarding the gates were hoisted and jeered with such epithets as "savages' beasts' murderers."

Britain, for many years, was a country not at all adverse to snuffing out a man's life on the gallows. Some of the world's most garish executions in fact have taken place there.

Yet, this country was able to muster enough public sympathy, enough tears, enough ranting and wailing so as to be heard virtually around the world.

And all, lest we forget, for a man who knifed to death an unarmed policeman trying to break up a dance hall brawl.

It is, as we said, difficult to understand,

What Others are Saying

Man-in-Space Proposal Frightening, Encouraging

From The Birmingham News

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has picked seven military pilots to be "Mercury Astronauts" or space pilots and one of them is likely to be the first man in outer space unless Russia throws one up there first.

This is an awesome piece of business. It is one thing to shoot missiles into the little known yonder, or even dogs or monkeys, but for a human being to be flying through outer space is a thought to bring one up short.

And what manner of men are these astronauts? Under 40 all. The pilots are not over 5 feet 11, because the machines they operate in will be only somewhat larger than a breadbox. They are all, say officials, "highly motivated," which means they're all ambitious to be the first man navigator in outer space.

The most amazing thing to us is that all seven men reported, when interviewed, that their wives were equally enthusiastic about the project. Men are known to be willing to take chances for the sake of adventure, but most women play all things safe. This means, to us, that the wives involved took a hitch in their courage and said what they knew should be said in furtherance of a needed national endeavor. The first man in outer space will get the public spotlight. We'll put ours on the wife.

Our imagination easily can travel forward to the eve of the day one of them is to enter a capsule to ride at the nose of a gigantic missile. What thoughts will probably sweep gustily through the fellow's mind. It would take a Jules Verne to imagine them.

Thus there comes more evidence to bulwark a fear that this century, and these scientists, have rushed most of us lesser mortals along much too fast. The mind is yet far too finite and unready. Yet here we are, and to stay.

Charlie's Miffed at His Editor for Scooping Him on Canoe Trip Story

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Dear Boss: I might as well tell you at the outset of this letter and at the dawn of my historic canoe trip that I think it was not very nice of you to scoop me on my own story.

Had I known that you would announce my plans and some of the details of my 900-mile trip from Montreal to Menasha, I would have tried to dissuade you. I'm no cub reporter boss; I don't like to get beat on my own yarn. The worst of it is that you not only scooped me on a story, but you scooped me on one of the biggest stories I have ever covered in my life.

I assure that this story may not be the biggest I've ever had if you measure it from top to bottom. But measure it from one end to the other and it comes out to something like 900 miles. That, boss, is a big story. I do not boss. You are going to sit in that pretty office of yours and you are going to point your pencil at people and tell them things that they should do. You are going to have your feet up on a nice warm desk and nobody is going to sass you back or give you any trouble of any kind. It is going to be pretty soft for you.

Qualms and Quakes

Take me, though. I am going to get into my little canoe and I am going to go into a foreign country far away from my friends and my family. I will have to live in the woods and to eat my own cooking and sleep on pine boughs and get frightened of bears and Indians and noises in the night, like the who-who-who of owls, and the raucous shriek of the loons and the slapping of beaver tails. You aren't going to do anything like that at all, not in your pretty office.

So that's why I don't think you should have scooped me on my own big story.

Now I have to go over the thing again just because you sat up there in your pretty office and told some smart aleck that he should write the announcement of my trip. Boss, he didn't know the whole story as well as I know it. So why did you scoop me? Here's how it really happened:

Remember, boss, we were sitting there in your office discussing how I would handle my assignment to go down the St. Lawrence seaway in some big, old boat and then write some articles about it?

Big Deal

And then, remember, boss, that when we checked we found that hundreds of reporters from all over the world are hanging around up there in Montreal, just waiting for a trip down the seaway? Well, naturally they were! The opening of the seaway is going to have an influence on the entire heartland of the United States and upon thousands of people everywhere in Europe.

The St. Lawrence seaway, just now, is one of the most important news stories in history. It opens the door to the Atlantic ocean—just a thousand miles from Montreal. It is an open sesame to commerce and industry. The big boats will cross the ocean laden with goods from Europe, chug their way down through the gulf of St. Lawrence, into the St. Lawrence river, down through the various ports on the Great Lakes where millions of American people live. Then they'll unload their cargoes, fill up again with goods made and manufactured in our heartland cities, go back through the St. Lawrence and across the Atlantic ocean again to carry our goods to the people of other countries. That, boss, is commerce.

When we saw this horde of reporters going down the newly opened seaway, we thought they would have a wonderful story to tell. But, Boss, the big ships are so big that those poor reporters had

The unit will provide free X-rays at city hall from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m. and from 6:30 to 8 p. m. Wednesday and will be in front of the Red Owl store on Wisconsin avenue to stand on the decks and wave at people on the shores, and take pictures of them. And if one of the ships bumped into one of the locks a little bit, BANG, it was their big story.

So (do you remember, Boss?) we talked about that and then we wondered a little bit about how any reporter could do a really interesting series on a trip down the seaway and into the Great Lakes while standing on shipboard and wishing he could talk to people.

Jean Nicolet

Then we started talking about Jean Nicolet—about his long, brave voyage into the unknown.

That's when you got your idea, boss. (Ed. Note: Actually the idea was Charlie's) So I'm off into the wild blue waters of the Ottawa river riding my little canoe over the trails taken by Nicolet. I will make hard portages, travel through much wild, uncompromising country, shoot rapids in the Mattawa and the French rivers, travel down into Georgian bay of Lake Huron and then across Lake Michigan into the Green Bay, the Fox river and terminate the trail of the voyageur near Appleton, just as Jean Nicolet did when he opened the northwest.

So then you went ahead and scooped me!

Boss, I'm leaving now and I'll cover my story as well as ever I can, but I have one request to make of you as I leave home and hearth:

No more scoops, mind!

CAR BUYERS TELL WHY MERCURY SALES RISE.. 53.8%

"NEW MERCURY OWNERS BETTER SATISFIED THAN OWNERS OF ANY COMPETITIVE '59 CARS," says independent survey. Thousands of new-car owners were recently asked by a private research organization what they liked and disliked about their cars. (See typical answers below.) The results showed Mercury owners were best satisfied—and by a wide margin.

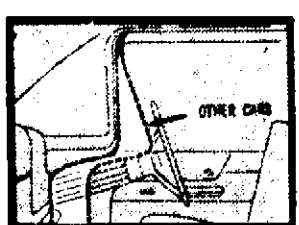

ALL THIS AND ECONOMY, TOO! 210-HP ENGINE USES REGULAR GAS. "It's like getting every tenth tankful free," say Mercury owners. More than that, every Mercury engine (the industry's newest!) really squeezes extra miles from a tankful of gas. Notice that in the recent Mobilgas Economy Run Mercury beat 19 cars including Buick, Olds and Pontiac.

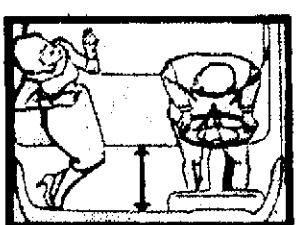

"The middle passenger gets a real seat." Mercury cut the center hump in half. You get reasonable foot room and seat cushioning.

"To step into my Mercury like a lady." Mercury has the widest doors of any car. No need to back, fall or crawl into your seat.

"Mercury gives my knees some relief." That bruising cornerpost that sticks way out on other cars is moved back, out of the way.

"So much room to stretch out." Even the tallest people can relax in these seats. Arrow indicates 9 inches extra knee room.

Experts Think Youth Being Made Scapegoat

tor of the project), psychology; Milton L. Barron, sociology; Edward M. Daniels, psychiatry; Preston A. McLendon, pediatrics; Walter B. Miller, cultural anthropology; and Benjamin Thompson, criminology.

The picture of juvenile delinquency in this country is complicated, they say, by the pressures of modern life. The public needs a scapegoat, and has found one in "the irritating adolescent and the annoying delinquent."

"The public, suddenly awakened to its second place in the race to the moon, has pounced on the school and the adolescent learner as the arch villains responsible for its plight."

"The popular writers of stage, screen, radio, television and press have been quick to exploit this situation."

In the popular image: "The delinquent is black jacketed and long haired. He runs around on a bright and noisy motorcycle or in a souped-up hot rod. He is brutal. He is cruel. He is restless. He is dangerously free and uninhibited sexually. He is aggressive. He travels with the pack. He is heartless."

Stressed by Writers

"This powerful stereotype of the inhuman adolescent is vividly portrayed in Hunter's 'Blackboard Jungle'; in Hal Ellison's many paperbacks whose blurb announced 'even their dreams were dirty,' and in the celluloid extravaganza, 'The Wild One,' which reached new depths in the recent movie 'High School Confidential.'"

"Movie producers, publishers, authors and comic-book artists are hardly insensitive to the great sales value of such an image on the consumer market. Therefore titles and cover illustrations are lurid and titillating, and the image of the juvenile delinquent as the epitome of evil is being sold for all it is worth."

What happens when the youngsters see movies like "The Blackboard Jungle" and "The Wild One"? Their reaction, says the report, is: "Gee, I thought I was tough. That kid is twice as tough as me. So, that's what you have to do to be tough."

The popular image is inaccurate and exaggerated, says the report. But it becomes a self-fulfilling prophecy because the youngsters begin to act out what they have seen. When this happens, many people say, "Ah! see, we told you so! The author has written a real-life story!"

It's an ancient complaint, say the experts, that the younger generation is flighty, irresponsible, and rebellious.

Today, however, conflict between youth and adults is sharper, and much more in evidence. In the past there may have been more tolerance for the sowing of wild oats, but today the machines and methods of rebellion are increasingly dangerous.

Rapid social changes are responsible. The younger generation must be constantly adapting itself to conditions that the older generation, in growing up, didn't know, didn't experience, and could not imagine. Mass production of the automobile, for instance, has brought auto theft problems that were relatively unknown when father was a boy.

Serious Problem

The problem is serious, says the report, and calls for much more research than ever has been done. It also calls for adults to detach themselves emotionally from the problem, and consider adolescents as participating members of a highly volatile society.

It adds this word of hope: "Before teachers and parents despair altogether of the future of these youngsters, they should remember that the 'Flaming Youth' and the 'Lost Generation' of the 1920s turned out to be good, substantial citizens who, in turn, became incensed at their own youngsters as they danced to the wild Benny Goodman swing music of the 30s."

"Just so will (many of the) youngsters now addicted to rock 'n' roll become substantial, although complaining, parents of the next generation."

Samuel Beer Named to ADA Chairmanship

Harvard Professor Avowed Believer in Liberal Politics

Washington — Samuel H. Beer, a 47-year-old Harvard professor and an avowed believer in political liberalism, is the new national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action.

Beer's election yesterday by the self-styled liberal organization brings to ADA's top leadership a close friend of Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass). Kennedy is considered a likely contender for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1960.

Previous Efforts
Beer said today he has helped Kennedy in previous political efforts, but is not a member of the senator's political organization.

At least part of the ADA leadership up to now has leaned toward Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), an ADA man, chairman of the Chicago and North Western railroad, in that order, for the way, who will deliver the Democratic presidential nomination address, at 3 p.m. Sunday, June 7.

The weekend calendar:
Friday, June 5:
10 30 a.m. — Annual meeting of the board of trustees, Riverview Country Club.
5 30 p.m. — Annual meeting of the officers and directors of the Lawrence alumni association, Riverview Country Club.
6 15 — Dinner honoring class secretaries and class agents of alumni association, 1960 spring convention and Riverview Country Club.
8 p.m. — Commencement concert in Memorial chapel, featuring soloists of the class of 1959 with the Lawrence Symphony. Immediately following there will be tower music by a brass ensemble from the roof of the music-drama center.

Saturday, June 6:
8 30 a.m. — Phi Beta Kappa breakfast, Russell Sage Hall.
9 30 to 11 30 — Alumni college lectures by Dr. Thomas Wenzlau of the economics department and Dr. Edwin Olson of the psychology department.

The ADA supported Stevenson in both his races for the presidency in 1952 and 1956. Before the Democratic convention in 1956, however, the ADA declined to state a preference by saying either Stevenson, Averell Harriman, or Sen. Estes Kefauver would be acceptable.

It remains to be seen whether the ADA will name another group of "acceptables" at its 1960 spring convention and thus avoid naming a single favorite.

Liberal Candidate
Beer told a reporter he favors a liberal candidate for president. In response to a question whether Kennedy would be acceptable to him, he replied Kennedy has called himself a liberal and "I think he would be in the liberal category."

Beer said he knows Kennedy very well. He said he helped Kennedy in the effort to get him nominated for the 1956 and 1960 presidential races for the house and senate.

Secretarial Work Popular Field With June Graduates

One popular job for graduating high school girls is being a secretary. Jobs are usually plentiful, and efficient girls who take a sincere interest in their work are always in demand.

Mrs. Ada Kaski, Oshkosh, has been a secretary since she was graduated from high school. She began doing stenographic work while in high school and held similar jobs before working for the Kimberly-Clark corporation, Neenah, in the main office. Mrs. Kaski is the secretary for Roger A. Baird, assistant secretary of Kimberly-Clark and general attorney for the corporation.

While in high school Mrs. Kaski took the business course, including typing and shorthand, the typical background for most secretaries. When she began her employment at K-C she started in clerical work, then stenographic and finally became a secretary.

In Good Taste Customer Late, Upsets Schedules

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I own a beauty salon and do wish you would write something in your column about the discourtesy of being late for appointments in a place such as mine. To give you an example: This morning our first customer was late. As a result all day the appointments have been telescoping because almost everyone else was on time. One lady had to leave before being properly taken care of and was quite irritated. Your column is widely read and I am sure a word from you on the rudeness of such behavior will help.

Answer: Your letter points out one of the most important reasons why people should make every effort to be on time for their appointments, and I can only add that being late for any appointment without a valid excuse is very rude.

Bride's Table

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to give his sister in marriage and we would like to know if he is to sit at the bridal table and if so whether his wife should be asked to sit there too?

Answer: When her father or older relatives gives the bride away he is rarely asked to sit at the bride's table, but as her brother is more nearly her age, and probably a friend of the others at the table he should be asked to sit there and his wife ought to be invited to sit with him.

Black Important

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother-in-law is very ill and not expected to live. In the event of death, would it be in bad taste to wear navy blue instead of black? My wardrobe does not include a black family.

Dramatic 17-Year-Old Wants To Die—His Steady Said Bye

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: You get lots of letters asking for a solution, but my problem has no solution — except death. I'm 17 and life isn't worth living anymore. My steady just returned my ring and told me we were through. Ann Landers I honestly think I'd jump off a bridge tonight if I didn't have to represent the school in an important golf match tomorrow.

How does a fellow go on living when the most important thing in his whole life is gone? I never dated a girl before Cynthia. She was everything a fellow could wish for. I've tried to get her off my mind by studying, but I see her face on every page. Please help me before I crack up. — D. Prest
Dear D. Prest: No chick is worth jumping off a bridge for — not even Cynthia, so hold it, Buster. At 17 the emotions are very close to the surface. When things are good they are super and colossal. When they're bad they're miserable and crummy. A real sign of maturity is fewer emotional peaks and valleys. When we don't fly quite so high we don't plunge nearly so low. People who have a variety of interests protect themselves against emotional catastrophe. (Look what golf did for you!) Repeat to yourself, when things get rough, that little but meaningful phrase, "And this, too, shall pass. . . ."

DEAR ANN: They say when a person is drunk his true character comes out. Well, I'm going with a man who drinks quite a lot, and honestly, when he's got a load on his back, he's the sweetest man alive. I'd give anything if we could get married, but he has a wife. For the past year he's been telling me he can't talk to her about a divorce until she gets out of the hospital. Last week I got to wondering what would keep a woman in the hospital so long unless it was mental I checked around and learned his wife is not a patient, she works in the office.

When I told him I knew, he cried and said he lied because he didn't want to lose me. We both got pretty high and I promised I'd wait till he got grounds for a divorce. He says she's a good wife and mother, and never looks at another man. I'm afraid he'll never get grounds. I know he loves me and not her. Why isn't this grounds enough? Please help me — Ursula
Dear Ursula: Your great "love" is a chemical concoction with an alcohol base. When Dan Cupid must be kayoed with a fifth of bourbon — look out.
Not only is this man a liar — he's a married liar. Now that you know the truth, drop him. And my condolences — to his wife.
DEAR ANN: My neighbor's child comes over here every night to copy our daughter's homework. Do you think this is fair?
Margaret works very hard to do an outstanding job in school and I resent this neighbor girl walking in blithely picking the fruits of her labor.
I don't want to cause hard feelings between Margaret and the other child, but I'm becoming annoyed. I want my daughter to be generous and share with others, but I feel this is something different. How do I attack the problem? — Stymied
Dear Stymied: Explain to Margaret that she does the right thing when she hands her the answers on a silver platter. She's helping her to be dishonest, dependent, and lazy.
Tell Margaret she may explain the work to the girl if she gets stuck, but no more handing over the finished product.

A Pair of Famous Handholders, Elizabeth Taylor and Eddie Fisher, pose on the stage of the Tropicana hotel early today where Fisher ended a singing engagement. He and Liz plan to be married later today after he obtains a Nevada divorce from Debbie Reynolds. A European honeymoon will be taken by the twosome.

Eddie Will Get Divorce and Wed Liz Today

Las Vegas, Nev. — In three 10-minute takes today, singer Eddie Fisher will get a divorce, a marriage license and Elizabeth Taylor for his bride.
Eddie will go before District Judge David Zenoff at approximately 2 p. m. (PDT). He will charge his wife, actress Debbie Reynolds, with mental cruelty — the traditional Hollywood grounds for divorce, which Debbie herself used to get a California interlocutory decree last February from Fisher.
Liz Taylor will not be present for the divorce hearing, which is expected to take 10 minutes or less.
If the divorce is granted, the actress will join Fisher across the hall of the courthouse where they will take out a marriage license.
The wedding is tentatively scheduled for sometime after 3 p. m. (PDT) at Temple Beth Shalom, Rabbi Max Nussbaum, the Los Angeles rabbi who recently converted Miss Taylor to Judaism, will perform the ceremony.
The couple will honeymoon in Europe until Miss Taylor starts a movie in London May 25.
Michael Todd, Jr., son of Miss Taylor's third husband, will be best man. Mrs. Howard Taylor, wife of Liz' brother, will stand up for the bride.
A E Harratt will serve as toastmaster and Kenneth Loos is social chairman. A local orchestra has been engaged for the dance.

Culbertson on Bridge

By Ely Culbertson
There are times when a defender can accurately visualize every card of importance in the declarer's hand, and in such cases it should not be too difficult to ferret out the proper line of defense. Example, West did an excellent job of that sort in the following deal.
South, dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

The bidding (rubber bridge):
South West North East
1 N T Pass 3 N T Pass
Pass Pass
North was right in jumping straight to three no-trump; the five diamond tricks figured to provide South with a good play for the game.
West's longest suit, diamonds, could scarcely be considered a suit at all, so with an eye on "constructiveness," West laid down the king of spades. East showed his enthusiasm by playing the spade nine, and South thoughtfully held up his ace.
West continued with the queen of spades, and declarer presented him with that trick also. Now West paused for reflection.
He knew that South was a sound bidder and that he would not have shaded his no-trump opening materially. Thus, South was absolutely marked with every honor that he actually held. In normal course he would win the five diamond tricks and his own two aces, given the chance, he would set up some club tricks. Certainly East could not have an entry and so there was no point in continuing spades, but East could have one relatively low but vital card, namely, the ten of hearts.

His analysis completed, West shifted to the jack of hearts. That third South. Before he could establish a club trick for himself, West established a heart trick for his side, and declarer was helpless.
Note that besides shifting to the right suit, West had to lead a heart honor. Otherwise (on the lead of the low heart by West), South could have eventually thrown West on lead and forced the return of a club from West's tenace.

Our Children
Removal of Audience
Helps Stop Show-Off

BY ANGELO PATRI
"How is it," asked the young teacher, "that in every class I meet there is bound to be a show-off. They drive me nuts."
True, the show-off is ever with us. This call for attention by doing the unfitting and annoying thing is a childish trait born of the feeling young children have of their helplessness in an adult situation. They cannot do what the people about them are doing, cannot keep their end up, and they feel the power of self slipping from them.
To get back the feeling of power in themselves they do what they can do, make faces, shout, jump on the furniture, or as one small girl did, turn on her wheels. They are begging suitable behavior. The children and the young persons have to be disciplined and trained to understand their behavior and correct it, the earlier this is done the better.

A young child cannot take on the manners of the adults and should not be asked to do so. His appearance before guests should be brief and he should not be put on the spot by being ordered to say the police words used in greeting guests. Let him appear and let him disappear in fast time.
Need Time
The adolescent boy or girl should have acquired the rudiments of good manners by the time they reach this stage. They know and can conform to the manners of polite society. They know not to interrupt, to stand when an elderly person rises, to seat a lady to help with any service that is needed, provided their parents have taught them and encouraged them to practice such manners.
The classroom show-off is trained by sending him on an errand, by having something to do that changes his thinking for the moment, by allowing him some one definite chore in classroom duty such as caring for the supply closet or tending the goldfish.
It is fatal to try to talk him down or to match his showing-off with sarcasm. He, by that scene wins what he is looking for, an audience. Remove his chances of an audience and you remove the show-off. He just needs time to grow up.

A Lovelier You
By Mary Sue Miller
If you need to reduce, this is an ideal season to begin. You require less food as the weather warms and you want for less. Too, those dieter's specialties—fresh vegetables, salad greens and fruits—are coming into market at the height of their deliciousness. Start to diet now, and with the least possible distress you can lose up to 20 pounds by mid-summer. The way to do it is by cutting down on the big weight and heat producing foods—the starches, sweets and fats. Take up the slack with raw and plain-cooked garden produce.
Simply as a pattern, here is day's menu: Breakfast—fresh-squeezed tomato juice, two slices protein toast with half pat butter, coffee. Lunch—salad (mixed greens, hard boiled egg, green pepper, dieter's dressing), two slices melba spread lightly with anchovy paste, fresh fruit jello, iced tea with one teaspoon sugar.
Dinner—half broiled chicken, one parsley potato, carrots seasoned with mace, dipper raspberry ice, coffee. Between meals—one glass (two a day) skim milk.
You might think anything so painless wouldn't work. But it will!

Green Bay Man To Arrange GOP Conclave
Dewey Decker Picked; Keynote Speaker Affirmed
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—Republican state headquarters announced today that Dewey Decker, Green Bay businessman, will be the general arrangements chairman for the state party convention to be held at the Arena on Saturday, June 6. Claude J. Jasper, state GOP chairman, also formally confirmed a commitment from Sen. Thurston Morton of Kentucky, new chairman of the Republican national committee, to perform as keynote speaker at the main convention session. A nationally prominent speaker is being sought for the concurrent meeting of the county chairmen of the party, headquarters said, which will also be held on the preceding Friday evening. Jasper emphasized that Morton will be making his first Wisconsin appearance as chairman of the national party organization, although he has campaigned in Wisconsin in other years.

Governor Supports Formation of Youth Conservation Corps
Madison — The creation of a youth conservation corps would be a tremendous shot in the arm for Wisconsin's timber industry, Gov. Gaylord Nelson said Monday. In a statement presented to a special subcommittee of the U.S. senate's labor and public welfare committee, Nelson urged passage of a bill by Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) to establish the corps. The governor said the bill has great interest to Wisconsin because nearly half the state's land area is covered by forests, and adoption of the corps plan would allow the state to turn millions of acres of scrub and brush land into rich forest-producing areas.

Death Rate Of Children Decreases

Down 78 Per Cent From 1910; Control Of Disease Credited

New York — The death rate for children under 1 year has fallen 78 per cent between 1910 and 1956, from 132.2 to 29.6 per 1,000, insurance statistics reveal.

Even more rapid has been the downward trend in death rate among children past infancy. At the preschool ages, 1 to 4 years, the death rate dropped from 14 to 1.1 per 1,000, or 92 per cent. The relative decrease was almost as large at ages 5-9. Even at ages 15-19, the mortality rate was reduced nearly 75 per cent.

These reductions in mortality reflect the marked degree of control gained over infectious diseases, statisticians say. Some diseases which took a heavy toll of life among children and youth at the time of the first White House conference on children and youth 50 years ago have been reduced to the vanishing point as causes of death.

Fewer Diseases

For example, the death rate from the four principal communicable diseases of childhood — measles, scarlet fever, whooping cough, and diphtheria — under age 20 fell from 143 per 100,000 in 1910 to 1.5 in 1956, or 99 per cent.

Chances of survival have also increased, statisticians declare. One out of every five babies born in the United States around 1910 failed to live to 21; currently, the proportion is one out of 25. Fifty years ago newborn children had 50 years of life ahead of them; at present, the figure is nearly 70 years.

Meeting Changed

The Tuesday Study club meeting place has been changed.

John W. Schulze, 807 E. Brewster street, won the automatic dishwasher in the Post-Crescent dishwasher contest. Judges said his entry gave the best and most original reasons for wanting to win the dishwasher for his wife on Mother's day. There were 391 entries. Marshall Granros, Post-Crescent promotion manager, right, presents the dishwasher to Schulze.

Religious Beliefs Aid to Safe Driving, Panel Says

A panel discussion on applying Christian and religious precepts promoting highway safety was presented Monday night at Hortonville as part of the Outagamie Safety conference.

Leo Przybylski said a charitable attitude toward others will do much to promote safety. He said, "Charity is patience, charity is kind and charity is not boastful and when we really think and believe these things, it helps us to more fully understand our obligation toward others on the highways."

The Rev. Charles Schlei referred to the Christian obligation to respect traffic laws. "The stop sign is there," he said, "because it is meant for us to observe it and thus prevent us and others from having accidents. It is Christian duty to obey the regulations, and laws enacted for our safety even down to the detail of a stop sign." It is as important to drive carefully as it is to handle fire arms carefully, he said.

Police Chief Speaks

Hortonville Chief of Police Ira Dominowski spoke on tolerance. "If we have more tolerance in the operation of vehicles and tolerance toward others, there will be fewer accidents. How much tolerance should the law and the enforcement officers have? Their first and primary consideration is the protection of life and limb."

William Morrissey served as moderator of the panel. The next meeting of the County Citizens Safety conference will be held in Appleton at the courthouse, June 8. Governing board members will be elected. The new chief of the Motor Vehicle department may address the group.

State Road Budget Hits Record High

Nelson Plans No Major Policy Change in Road Plan

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — State highway financial policy will probably remain unchanged during Gov. Nelson's first term despite his frequent criticism of the department's financial operations during his successful election campaign.

The governor will transmit a record highway budget to the legislature in substantially the form the highway commission submitted to him five months ago, he said at his news conference Monday.

The governor told reporters that he plans no major policy changes in the 2-year road budget totalling more than $400 million.

Long-Range Plan

But he asked the department to rewrite its justification for the budget, to give the legislature a better grasp of its long range improvement objectives and progress made toward attaining them, he said.

The new Democratic regime might have been expected to change its approval because the vast highway program is pinned to 20 years of Republican policy decisions.

The huge spending authorization, largest single departmental financing program in the state, includes sums for local roads and streets, carved out of the state highway tax budget after years of struggle by local government lobbyists.

The Wisconsin Towns association wants to renew the fight about distributing highway tax dollars, but its request for more generous rural road subsidies has not attracted much backing in the current legislature.

Gov. Nelson will probably offer a bonding program for major through roads to the fall session of the legislature, according to his recent statements.

Nearly half of the $400 million in the biennial highway budget represents federal aids, including generous chunks for the new interstate road construction program.

Bringing Up Baby

WHITS COLLECTED BY MISS. BAE GERBER, MOTHER OF 6

When baby's babble shows signs of becoming intelligible, your role as speech teacher becomes an important one. At first baby will learn by imitation, with no idea of word meaning. Coos will be transformed into words more quickly if you avoid baby talk, enunciate clearly, repeat often. Later, you can teach word meanings by pointing to objects as you talk. Start with the familiar objects baby sees and uses every day.

P. S. A column-reading mother writes that her toddler learned the primary colors from Gerber Cereal boxes.

Toddlers and tykes alike go for Gerber High Protein Cereal because of its delicate, nut-like flavor and that famous, smooth Gerber texture. Mothers appreciate the extra nutritional advantages of Gerber High Protein Cereal. For it has a whopping 35% protein content... to help little bodies grow big and strong.

Toddlers and tykes alike go for fruit, especially if it's a Gerber Strained or Junior Fruit. And why not? Gerber Fruits are brimming with the natural, sun-kissed goodness of the juiciest, most flavorful fruits to be found. All are heat-processed in the absence of air for high retention of nutritive values. 9 Strained varieties, 8 Junior choices, including the delicious new Junior Bananas with Pineapple. Professor Hits AHS English Class

Lawrence's Craig Thompson Says Writing, Reading Work Deficient

"The work in English in Appleton High school is deficient," a Lawrence college English professor said in a letter to the Supt. of Schools John P. Mann, Mann reported to the board of education Monday night.

Prof. Craig R. Thompson, a parent and teacher, told Mann "the work is not what it should and could be" in the senior high school curriculum. Mann said "I have great respect for Thompson's opinion."

Thompson said that "freshmen (in Lawrence college) themselves complain that they had not been given decent training in writing in Appleton High school."

Not Enough Reading

"The same with reading. Is enough that is demanding read?" ... I am confident that this matter does not require an English staff one third larger," as Mann suggested in a recent talk to the Appleton Kiwanis club, Thompson stated.

Mann suggested to the board Monday night that a single addition be made to the high school English faculty—"someone with a minimum of five years experience—an expert in composition."

The additional teacher would concentrate on senior college preparatory English, Mann explained.

His request was turned over to the education committee for investigation.

Asked Changes

Thompson recommended changes in the curriculum. "It requires abandoning some of the things done now and doing other things instead—abandoning current magazines and scrapbooks and 'projects' for serious reading and writing."

"Yet consider that if members of a high school English class wrote only one page a week and if that practice were continued week after week, and if the composition were corrected and had to be revised and revised until acceptable, graduates of Appleton High would be considerably more competent as writers than they are at present," he continued.

Thompson asked that students be required to stick to fundamentals—texts that make more intellectual demands. He protested teaching students how to read a newspaper and reading current magazines.

Writing Important

As for writing, he said if teachers did not find time for teaching composition, "they are spending their time on less important matters. I believe our pupils, with respect to English (and history), are becoming disservice. They are not being prepared so well as they should and could be prepared for a society in which communication is so vital."

Thompson, however, praised mathematics and sciences offered here. "When one of my sons changed from Appleton High to a private school of mention was evident at once: his work in mathematics and science at Appleton had prepared him quite well; in English, as he quickly realized, he had brought very little from Appleton High."

"If you will just compel English teachers to assign short compositions, to read these, and—this is particularly important—to have pupils re-write them, you will be doing us a service to anyone under 21 years old. It was sought after," the professor concluded.

Committee To Introduce 5 Ordinances

Five new ordinances will be introduced at the May 20 council meeting, the welfare and ordinance committee decided Monday.

They call for:

Annexation of the nearly 40-acre city industrial development park purchased two years ago from Roy R. Winter and Roland Abitz for $57,240.

Truck weight restrictions on city streets. An ordinance draft failed to pass the council last week. The new one permits all home delivery trucks of less than 26,000 pounds gross to use all streets, but restricts all other trucks weighing more than 15,000 pounds gross to designated truck routes.

Add to Shoreline

Abolishing of the city physician post and reestablishing a part-time city health commissioner job with annual salary at $1,200.

Establishing a new shoreline on the Fox river at Bel-laire park. The move is expected to pave the way for filling of a 60-foot wide strip on the shore by the park board.

Revising present ordinances to forbid sale of any dangerous weapon to anyone under 21 years old. It was sought after by Chief of Police Hendricks.

Parents Ask Junior High Science Clubs

"With the present national and world-wide emphasis on science education, it appears the Appleton school system is not doing enough to encourage students to pursue a scientific career," the board of education was told in a letter from Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greenwalt, 1504 W. Franklin street.

They asked the board to consider giving financial support to extra-curricular junior high school science clubs and to advisers so they might accompany students to Junior Academy of Science competitions.

"We are somewhat disturbed by the seeming lack of emphasis being placed on encouragement of science at the junior high level," the Greenwalts said.

"In former years, science clubs were established in the junior high schools. (They) provided a needed opportunity for the students to pursue their scientific interests, (enabling them) to work on projects for the annual Wisconsin Junior Academy of Science competition."

The Greenwalts praised the science work being done in the grade school and junior high school classrooms. "However, the students have no opportunity to pursue their special scientific interests under the very excellent supervision available, due to the present curtailment of after-hour science clubs."

"The clubs would enable the young students interested in science to determine and develop their special interests so more intelligent planning of high school curricula in science could be attained," the Greenwalts added.

Minimum Age Sought For Bicycle Riders, Committee Informed

An ordinance to establish a minimum age for bicycle riders was proposed to the city council's welfare and ordinance committee Monday.

John P. Reeve, 212 N. Green Bay road, in a letter to the committee cited the recent death of a 7-year-old in Green Bay and posed the question of a minimum age for other reasons.

Reeve pointed to a minimum age for motor vehicle drivers' licenses as establishing a precedent.

Chairman Harold Hamann asked the committee to think about the proposal until the next meeting, in about two weeks.

Catlin Runs Into Board Traditions

Finds Unwritten Rule Upheld By Majority of Supervisors

Appleton Supv. Mark Catlin, veteran of Madison legislative halls, but a freshman supervisor, today ran head-on into the O u t a g a m i e county board's traditions.

Catlin, who heads the board's airport and parks committee, decided that if the committee secretary signed bills having to do with the airport and county parks (the Grignon home in Kaukauna), that was enough.

It was, Catlin declared after Board Chairman Alvin Fulcer invited him to comment, "ridiculous for an entire committee to sign bills. If they signed them when the bills were considered, it would be meaningful. But after the bills are discussed, everybody signs them on the back without looking at them."

"It's ridiculous. And there is no county board rule requiring all members (five) of a committee to sign bills," Catlin said.

"It's an unwritten rule," Fulcer retorted.

"There's nothing wrong with it. We've been doing it for years. We did it before Catlin came and we'll do it after he's gone—and me, too," added Appleton Supv. Sylvester Esler.

Catlin explained that all bills are listed in the committee minutes, signed by the secretary, so it made no sense to have the entire committee sign bills.

"Not True"

Shiocton and Kaukauna Supvs. George Miller and Matt Verfurth said it wasn't true that committee members don't look at bills when they sign them.

"I didn't say that, Catlin said.

"You did, too," Miller replied.

Kaukauna and town of Kaukauna Supvs. Russell De La Hunt and Peter Farrell said as secretaries of committees they did not want the responsibilities of signing bills alone.

Ellington Supv. Emmett Root declared, "I can't see what it hurts anyone to put their name on a bill. We've operated this way here and on my town board. I don't see why we have to change policy. I believe in system. There isn't—or hasn't—been anyone on the board trying to gyp anyone. This opens the door."

Fulcer told Catlin the executive board would not accept the airport committee's bills for payment unless all committee members signed them.

The board then passed a $700-plus bill for snow plowing at the county airport. It had not been signed by the committee, although as a bill over $500 it did not have to be. Catlin threw up his hands and laughed.

(It is county board procedure to have all bills under $500 approved by committees of appropriate jurisdiction, then the executive board approves the bills. On bills over $500, the entire board votes approval.)

New Junior High Report Card Approved by Board of Education

Seventh graders in Appleton public schools will be graded on new report cards beginning this fall, as a 2-year experiment that may be expanded to include the entire city high school system.

Appleton board of education Monday night approved recommendations of a junior high school report card study committee for a quarterly card that employs the ABC system, but uses varying grade points for different ability levels. A different card is used for each subject.

Under the new system, a seventh grader will go into high, average or low sections of students in each of the classes he chooses to take. If he receives an A in the top class, he earns 6 points; in the average class, 5 points, and in the low class, 4 points.

could conceivably be a discipline problem and still get A's. Grades are given solely on academic achievement, he said.

The system differs from the present H, M, plus, M and U system, also used in the high school. It represents a return to a kind of system that had been discarded several years ago, although no stratification of grades was possible under the old system.

AHS Study Seen

Werner Witte, assistant principal at Appleton High school, said that if the system is generalized throughout the junior high level, senior high reporting system would have to be reconsidered.

A minority report was given by M. S. Clough, committee member and science teacher at Roosevelt school.

"I started with another premise," he explained. "I thought you should have a course with certain hurdles for the youngster. He should have to adjust to fit my course of study and my hurdles. My course of study should not have to fit the student."

Minority Report

He said that lower group students would not get 4-point A's, if he had his way, but would get C's on the same basis as upper group students. (Under the system, an upper-group C is worth the same number of points as a lower-group A.)

The report card was referred to the education committee for final approval. The committee had worked on the card previously, but had not investigated the "explanation of the marking system" appearing on the back of each card.

Brochures explaining the new system will be prepared for parents and teachers.

Experiment Group

New Junior High Report Card Approved by Board of Education

Seventh graders in Appleton public schools will be graded on new report cards beginning this fall, as a 2-year experiment that may be expanded to include the entire city high school system.

Appleton board of education Monday night approved recommendations of a junior high school report card study committee for a quarterly card that employs the ABC system, but uses varying grade points for different ability levels. A different card is used for each subject.

Under the new system, a seventh grader will go into high, average or low sections of students in each of the classes he chooses to take. If he receives an A in the top class, he earns 6 points; in the average class, 5 points, and in the low class, 4 points.

Ranked by Points

At the end of his high school career, he would be ranked on the basis of points. a.m. Thursday, and then at the church.

Retailers Say Higher Fines, More Enforcement Would Aid Shoppers

The Appleton Downtown Retail Association Monday decried the need to overhaul city parking policy thus providing more metered parking for shoppers.

They asked the city council's public safety committee to recommend doubling of meter charges on College avenue, doubling of fines for violations and stricter police enforcement.

Their aim, they repeated, to end "meter feeding" by people who work in downtown stores and buildings and occupy parking spaces which could be used by shoppers.

Representing the association were Kenneth Corbett, Chamber of Commerce secretary; Giles Flanagan, assistant chamber secretary; A. M.

25 Signers Ask Additions to Retail Survey

A petition with 25 signers was read at the close of the meeting at which Downtown Retail association asked for increased meter charges and parking fines.

Dated March 18, the letter recommended, among other things, prohibition of business truck parking downtown, a crack-down on illegal or careless parking, making it illegal for any vehicle to block downtown alleys, metering city lots, and enforcement of parking on "pig fair" days.

Committee Chairman Thomas K. Schneider thought the petition was signed by Western Condensing company employees, but several signers said today the petition originated there but also was signed by people working in other downtown businesses.

Diedrich, manager of the F. W. Woolworth company; W. T. Bernhardt, manager of Sears, Roebuck and company; and R. J. Gloudemans, president and general manager of Gloudemans company, Inc.

10 Per Cent
"About 10 per cent of downtown meters are being used improperly," Gloudemans said.

"We never made a list public of the violators," he continued. "Most of them work on the avenue. Many maintain that by repeatedly putting 5 cents into the meter they are not violating the law. They point out that tickets cost only 50 cents and are worth it for parking all day."

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings said that to move traffic, parking will have to be taken off College avenue.

Enforce The Law
"How about just enforcing the law?" she asked. Meter Maids, which some cities use, are inexpensive, she said. "You can get a lot of women who want part-time jobs to look after meter violators."

Higher Rates
"Higher meter rates will be an inducement to clear stag-

Law Sought For Stench, Smoke Bombs

Sale and use of smoke bombs was brought before the public safety committee Monday night by Police Chief Walter J. Hendricks.

Smoke bombs, Hendricks said, now are on sale in Appleton and the police department has talked to storeowners about their sale.

"Such bombs can develop panic at a gathering," the chief said. Police have picked up several children for throwing them.

The definition of fireworks was raised.

The ordinance reads, in part: "Fireworks . . . means bombs for pyrotechnic display . . . a substance designed to produce visible or audible results."

Smoke and stench bombs are not specifically mentioned in the ordinance. The committee will seek to amend the ordinance to include them.

Vocational Series At AHS Will End

Final series in the vocational talks for juniors and seniors at Appleton High school will be Wednesday afternoon during the homeroom period. It will conclude talks on 27 vocations given throughout the school year.

Speakers will be William Roerig, auto mechanics teacher at the Kaukauna Vocational school, who will talk on auto mechanics; Dr. B. J. Haza, who will speak on medicine, and John Conway, who will talk on hotel and restaurant management.

nant property downtown for parking," Chamber Sec. Corbett said. "The rates are low. No one will risk building parking lots."

Mrs. Stillings said all primary streets leading from College avenue should have no parking at all. "The streets are not designed for car storage. They're to travel on and we aren't moving traffic properly," she said.

Ald. Charles Captain claimed raising the price to 10 cents for an hour of parking would help.

Ravine Area
"If the ravine area south of Packard street could be obtained, we would have a big area to be developed," Gloudemans said. "The farmers market would have a place."

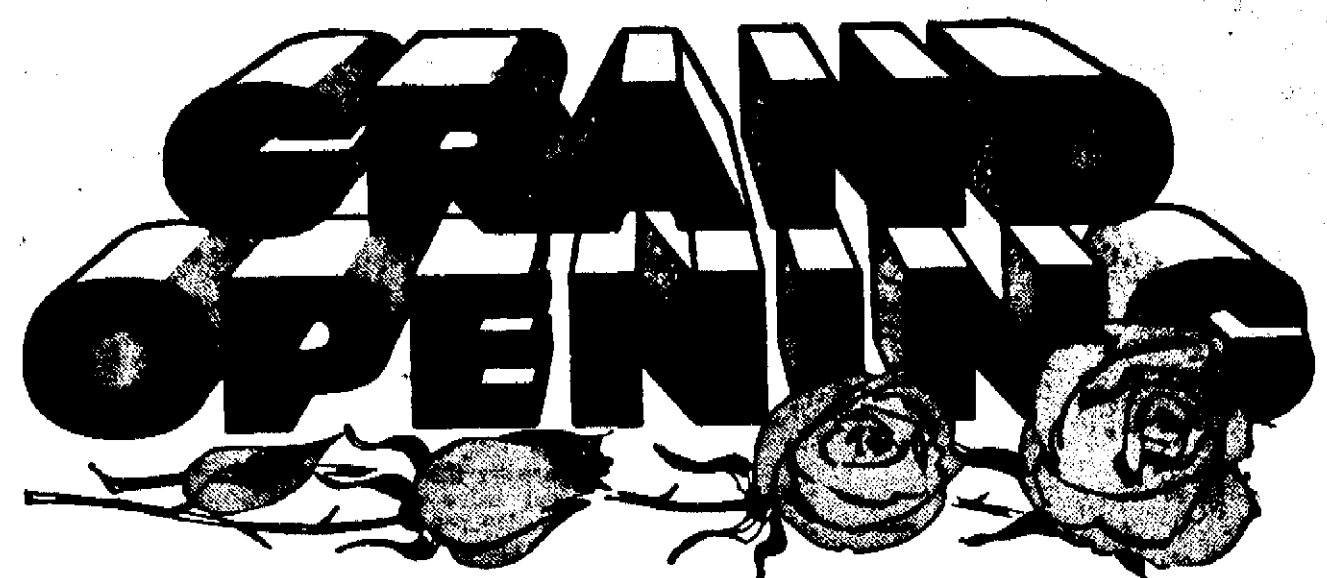

"The downtown area should be the business and cultural center of a community. We should take a long range outlook on the problem, say for 20, 30 or 40 years."

Absentee Owners
"Some of the buildings are owned by absentee landlords living in Chicago, Milwaukee or Texas. With the new bridge going across the Fox river, we will have a direct approach to town from places like Kimberly and Combined Locks," he said. The retailers, he noted, are interested in the shopper.

Police Chief Hendricks said one out of 25 complain about the 50-cent meter fine. "The rest of them come in with a smile on their face."

Flanagan, assistant Chamber secretary, read an April 16 Post-Crescent news story about a man who paid for 20 parking tickets and "got by very cheaply."

Ald. William Fritl said the fine should be raised to $2 and "make it worthwhile."

A Double Barrel Log Cutter, an automatic device for slicing long rolls of toilet tissue or toweling into household sizes, is demonstrated by Donald Woosencraft, project engineer for Appleton Machine company. The holes in the end of the push-type feeder are to accommodate projecting cores.

Automatic Log Cutter Developed

Appleton Machine Unit Speeds Tissue, Toweling Slicing

A double barrel log cutter, an automatic device for slicing long rolls of toilet tissue or toweling into household sizes, has been developed by Appleton Machine company. The new double roll, double cut feature permits the machine to turn out twice as many small rolls—160 per minute—with the same number of strokes as log cutters previously available.

The new cutter saws double sets of rolls simultaneously from the ends of the logs. This is accomplished by a toothless band knife which actually makes four separate cuts—two on each roll—on the down stroke. Each forward movement of the push type feeder is nine inches, compared to a usual 4 1/2 inches. An added benefit of cutting

Deny Loos' Plea for 3 Stop Signs

Committee Split 4-1 on Billboard For Wisconsin Ave.

Ald Kenneth Loos' request for stop signs at three State street corners was recommended for council denial Monday by the public safety committee.

He wanted signs at Spring, Summer and Commercial streets.

Committeemen said they do not want to create an arterial street north of Atlantic street on State street.

Other committee actions: Approval was recommended for Standard of Appleton to place a billboard on city property east of the Wisconsin avenue viaduct. Standard's request for permission to put billboards along the Chicago and North Western tracks at the city's parking lot on the northwest corner of Division and Washington streets was denied. The property belongs to the railroad.

Wigwags
A petition for automatic warning wigwags at the Charlotte and Owaissa street crossings of the Chicago and North Western was filed. Committeemen explained they already have taken action to have the state order the signals.

A petition for 2-hour parking on Wisconsin avenue between Bennett and Summit streets was ordered held. Committeemen were told a neighborhood feud inspired the 15 signers.

Traffic Sgt. Gosch was instructed to study the need for a school crossing guard for Edison school children using N. Lawe street, a move sought by Ald Malmstrom. Chief of Police Hendricks was asked to prepare statistical data on maintenance costs on city streets. Street lights were recommended on W. Frances street at N. Elipor street and on N. Morrison street at E. Greenfield street.

Purchase was recommended of 101 street sign blanks and 100 stop sign posts from Waupun state prison for $462.50.

Police Juvenile Officer V. Bell avenue, was elected vice las Burmeister was recommended to attend a delinquency control course at the high school director. University of Wisconsin, Madison, June 15 to 27 at city expense.

VFW Recommended For Dance License

More Police Protection for Complaining Neighborhood Promised by Chief Hendricks

Harvey Pierre post, Veterans, the committee indicated it would entertain a resolution to revoke the license.

VFW officials said they sought an increase in policing several weeks ago and Hendricks and Police Capt. Gosh and Salzman promised more frequent squad car patrolling.

Hendricks explained that personal visits by plainclothesmen, himself and other officials bore out reports of patrolmen there is little trouble. The night he visited, he said, the dance reminded him of a church.

Public Dances for Admission Fee Need License

Every dance in Appleton to which the public is admitted for a price must be licensed by the city council.

This was the ruling Monday by City Atty. Don L. Jury during a meeting of the city council's welfare and ordinance (licensing) committee and VFW officials.

Jury reported Mayor Mitchell has ordered Chief of Police Hendricks to enforce the law "to the letter of the law."

The report came after a VFW spokesman said he wanted to know whether the requiring of a dance license for the VFW represented discrimination. He wanted to know whether all dances must be licensed.

Jury said the ordinance is clear: If the public is admitted and if a charge is made, a license must be obtained.

This would apply, he said later to school and church dances of all types if they are not restricted to certain members.

Both are on County Trunk P.

He said he had some more checking into the fires and was planning to visit the area this week to continue his investigation. Schwabe was called in by Fire Chief Harold Aykens of the town department.

Lakeview School Storm Damage Heavy

Contractors Expect to Complete Repair This Week; 5 Classrooms Watersoaked

Neenah — Contractors expect to complete repairs to the new Lakeview school addition which received considerable storm damage Sunday night.

Wind pushed up the large concrete slabs on the roof overhang, tossing them onto the roof where the roof slabs and tar paper covering were damaged.

More than 200 gallons of water flowed through open cracks of the roof into five classrooms, damaging the rooms extensively, according to Prin. Robert Bell. Neighbors in the area Monday helped clean up the rooms.

Classes from the kindergarten through fourth grade were suspended Monday but are meeting today, using such rooms as the gym, music room, spare room and supply room. These rooms will be used for the balance of this week.

Water stood as deep as one inch in some rooms. Library books and anything out on the tables were damaged as well as the woodwork being warped and otherwise damaged.

Water also got into the concrete block walls and these now are drying out. The damage to these walls is not known. Almost all of the acoustical tile in the halls probably will have to be replaced because it was saturated by water. Desks also received water damage.

The damage was not discovered until school opened Monday because the damage was to the west side of the building which is away from the road.

No Action on 10-Ward Idea For Menasha

Menasha — No action was taken Monday night by the city council's ordinance and resolution committee on recommendations to redistrict the city.

Chairman George Stulp said today the move to double Menasha's present five wards "is a bigger problem than anticipated."

The meeting was attended by Mayor R. G. DuCharme, City Atty. William R. Giese, City Clerk Ira Clough and two representatives of the League of Women Voters, besides the committee, whose members are Alds. Stulp, Frederick Block, Paul Laemmrich, Lee Rather and Louis Gamney.

Last week, the league offered help to the council in making the long-pending study of the city wards to allow great-Funeral home, Oshkosh, after representation on the Win-3 p.m. Wednesday until 11 a. nebag county board of supervisors. Statutes provide each ward may be represented by one county supervisor.

Presently, each Menasha ward has two aldermen. Neenah has redistricted, so each a brother, Angus Clark, town of Winchester; a sister, Miss Catherine Clark, Mondovi; and three grandchildren.

Menasha — Volunteers are needed for the Menasha auxiliary police force, apart of the local civil defense organization, Mayor R. G. DuCharme and Civil Defense Director Thomas McGuire announced today.

The local officials said "the need for such an organization has been clearly demonstrated by the recent catastrophe at Green Bay, when within a few minutes the civil defense forces were alerted to aid and regulate the stricken area."

Mayor DuCharme attacked as a fallacy the idea that severe weather, such as tornadoes and cyclones, do not strike in areas where there is much water. "Many of our citizens are under the false impression that 'it can't happen here' because our city is surrounded by huge bodies of water. This theory has been disproved many times with similar geographical conditions."

Menasha's quota, assigned by the state civil defense office, is 62 auxiliary policemen, who will be trained in all phases of emergency duty. Quotas are set on a population basis, the mayor added.

In case of natural disaster of nuclear warfare, the Fox Cities region could become a reception area for evacuees from Milwaukee, Green Bay or Manitowoc.

DuCharme and McGuire call on church, labor, civic, service and labor organizations to help Menasha meet its quota of 62 men.

They will be trained by three Menasha policemen who have completed a course in civil defense instruction. The city police, who have attempted to find volunteers, have not been able to meet the quota.

McGuire, who will contact organizations for volunteers, said interested persons may contact him at the water and light commission office or may apply at the police station.

Armin Schroeder

olev was chosen to serve again as secretary-treasurer and club manager.

Directors for three years are Charles Littlefield, Fred Bentzen and Don Stafford.

Those with two years remaining in their terms are Harvey Leaman, Westgor and Ka Schubart while directors with a year left to their term are Schroeder, Pearson and Arnold Cane.

Fondy Halts NHS Track Win Chain

Cardinals Take 62-56 Win; Rockets Lose Five Points On Relay Disqualification

Neenah — Neenah's chain of 22 straight track meet victories was halted by Fond du Lac here Monday afternoon when it was beaten 62 to 56, aided by a disqualification in the sprint relay.

The loss was the first since May of 1955 when it was also Fond du Lac which turned back the Twin Cities.

Neenah won the relay but was disqualified because of an illegal pass and the five points for the event given to the Cardinals. Had the Rockets won, they would have topped the meet 61 to 57.

However, balancing the 5-point loss was the fact that Darrell McArthur, outstanding Fond du Lac athlete, didn't compete because of illness. He is a consistent 6 foot, plus high jumper and a good high hurdler and dashman. He usually contributes 10 points and upwards to the Fondy cause.

Strong in Weights

The visitors proved unusually strong in the weights. Darwin Rose won the shot put with a heave of 51 feet, best on the Neenah field in some years. Mowry Stulp, who set school records the last couple of times out, had 47 feet, 9 inches for second.

The Cardinals surprised even their coaches in the discus, won by Tom Cutler with a throw of 137 feet, 6 inches. Teammate Bob Murphy was second and Stulp had to settle for third.

The surprising thing about the event that only once before this season did a Fondy thrower better 130 feet and that boy didn't place on Monday. They had been averaging about 125 feet.

Do Well in Hurdles

The Rockets again did well in the hurdles where Jerry Schaefer was a double winner and Tom Drews gained a pair of seconds. Schaefer did the highs in 15.4 for a new school mark. The time for the lows was announced at 20.03, but it was discovered that the tape was held 10 yards short of the regular finish.

Neenah's other winner was Jerry Hensen, who won the broad jump and pole vault. He topped the former at 19 feet, 6 inches and the vault with a jump of 11 feet, 6 inches. He missed three times at 11-8 in an attempt to set a new school record. The Cardinals took second and third in both events.

Coch Harland Carl ran Wayne Rudolf, consistent half mile winner, in the 880 yard leg of the medley relay but Fondy had a good anchor in Pat Brunet and Rudolf couldn't pick up the lead that the previous Cardinal runners

FOX RIVER VALLEY LEAGUE

Menasha — St. Mary enters the final stages of its first Fox River Valley Baseball league schedule with a game at Oshkosh Wednesday afternoon.

The high jump result was somewhat of a surprise in that Fondy's Ron Rawls, who has jumped 6 feet in placing second to McArthur, could only do 5 feet, 5 inches which gave him a tie with Neenah's Jack Bogrand.

Neenah won the 880 relay by a couple of yards but the pass from the third to fourth leg (Littner to Schaefer) was ruled illegal. No official time was announced since the watches are kept only on the first place.

Disappointing Audience of 76 Attends County Hearing

Sportsmen Seek Uniform State-Wide Deer Season

BY JOHN MORGAN

Winneconne — A uniform statewide deer hunting season opening and continuation of legal motorboat trolling were among favored suggestions made Monday night at the annual Winneconne county fish and game hearing.

However, the meeting was poorly attended, as was last year's. Monday, 76 persons attended, staying through the first half of the meeting. Last year's peak attendance was closing the deer season in given areas when an assigned quota of deer is killed, the figure to be considered an "adequate harvest" of the area for control of number of animals. None opposed the suggestion.

The late bow season, at the suggestion of Dr. Donald Peck of Omro, should be Dec. 5-31. Vote was 22-2.

None opposed an either-sex deer season for Winneconne county, and 47 favored the suggestion.

Party Permits

The audience applauded one man who asked for an explanation of the idea behind the party permit for deer hunting, which he contends "is a big money-making proposition for the conservation department."

Harold Steinke, of the Central Wisconsin conservation office at Oshkosh, said the party permit was one way the state had of thinning deer herds, since a majority of hunters had opposed an any-deer season. There is not enough food to hold deer in some areas, Steinke added.

Another man asked Steinke why the conservation department allowed many deer in Waupaca county to starve last winter.

Steinke replied that was a mistaken impression and said he has photographs proving hay was placed in a field of standing corn. In the area near New London the questioner meant, Steinke said, there were two fields of corn and two of frozen cabbage, adequate to feed the deer in the area.

"Enough Food"

Steinke added that only two of 37 deer killed by attacking dogs in that area were suffering from malnutrition, according to autopsy reports on their bone marrow. "There was enough food in the deer yards of the three counties to carry the deer through the winter," Steinke concluded.

A 35-4 vote showed favor to fox bounties, but a suggestion to double present bounties only attracted a 3-4 vote.

By the time the question of motor trolling came up for discussion, the audience had thinned out so only a 13-9 vote was taken in favor of the idea. The question only was a "feeler," with no effect.

No Extensive Trolling

Richard Harris, also of the Central Wisconsin conservation office at Oshkosh, said there has not been any extensive use of trolling on five Wisconsin lakes including Winneconne, Minnesota and Michigan, he said, allow trolling in all their lakes.

Among other proposals approved at the hearing were moves to:

Extend waterfowl shooting hours to coincide with federal regulations, one-half hour before sunrise to sunset daily, 48-2.

Regulate (eliminate) permanent waterfowl blinds on inland waters, 30-29.

Limit the bag of Canada geese to six per season in the state, 28-27.

Have open season on raccoons all year, 56-0.

Hold present firearms regulations north of Highway 29 to in the three days before deer season opens, 25-17. (One man contended this is against the

Extortionist Off Firm's Payroll
Weehawken, N. J.—An official of the Neo Gravure Printing company said Monday Harold Gross has been dropped from its payroll but three relatives of Gross, a convicted extortionist, are being retained for the time being.
Testimony before the senate racketeers committee last week indicated Gross did no actual work for the commercial printing firm but was carried on the payroll as a $143-a-week shipping department foreman.
Gross, called as a witness, balked at saying whether he received thousands of dollars as the price of keeping Sunday supplements rolling from the Neo Gravure plant to several New York newspapers.
Vice President Charles E. Chenick of Neo Gravure said Gross was removed from the payroll.
Asked about three relatives still working for the firm, Chenick said: "Each is being evaluated on his own merits. As far as I have been able to accumulate information so far, Henry Gross, Norman Gross and Mike Reiter are perfectly legitimate full time employees."

"Isn't he adorable... he's connected with the government!"

'Lonesome for Mom,' Young Escapee Says
Farmington, Mo.—"I was just lonesome for mom." That was the way redheaded Billy Glenn Newhouse—accused of murder, kidnapping and rape—explained his escape from the ancient St. Francois county jail on Mother's Day.
Newhouse came back to jail of his own accord, flanked by his mother and two aunts, about nine hours after the escape was discovered. Three other men who fled with him are at large.
The 22-year-old Newhouse is awaiting trial on a charge of murdering his uncle a year ago.
He walked into the office of Sheriff Clay H. Mullins Sunday and said:
"I realized I made a mistake and wanted to come back."
One of the two aunts with him was Mrs. Evelyn Greco, 42, of St. Louis, who persuaded him to surrender to a posse in a wooded area last year.
His 40-year-old mother, Mrs. Virginia Newhouse, and Miss Iva Gibson, 44, of St. Louis, also were with him.
Mrs. Greco said Newhouse telephoned her from a service station in St. Louis and told her he wanted to go back. She said:
"He said he wanted to see his mom for Mother's Day and he knew he had done wrong."
The four men pried loose concrete block and smashed it here Sunday night. Two of the white boys were hospitalized with stab wounds and one Negro was treated for head injuries with a spoon.

Ohio County to Dole Out First Food Relief Since Late 1930s

Poor relief rolls now are near the recession peak here in this county of 1,700,000 persons. Two distribution centers will be open four days a week. Each client is assigned one day a month when he may call for his food.
This large industrial county has an estimated 38,000 unemployed out of a total work force of 700,000.
County Welfare Director John J. Schaffer said those eligible to receive food represent 10,000 cases on poor and soldiers relief and aid to the blind, dependent children and disabled.

"The Bob Cummings Show," in its fifth year on nighttime TV, will put its backlog of films into the ABC-TV daytime schedule starting in October.

Four world championship bouts are scheduled on the Wednesday night fights within an 11-week period Joe Brown takes on Paoli Rosi June 3 for the lightweight crown. New York to Regain Title Of TV Capital

Swing of Quality
Programs Away
From Hollywood

BY CHARLES MERCER

New York — About a year ago the television networks appeared intent on making Hollywood the capital of TV entertainment. Now the tide appears to be turning back to New York.

The list of filmed westerns and comedies originating in Hollywood is long. But with a few exceptions the big, widely discussed programs of quality have continued to come from New York. It now appears certain that next season New York will firmly resume its position as the nation's television capital.

The reasons are numerous. There have been some outstanding shows from Hollywood this season. Fred Astaire's show undoubtedly was the best single song and dance program visible on the home screen. Dinah Shore's program retains consistent quality. "Playhouse 90" has offered many fine dramas from the west coast. Other examples can be cited.

Some Failures
At the same time there have been distressing failures. There were high hopes for "Desilu Playhouse" at the beginning of the season. But it has proved generally to offer second and third-rate dramatic entertainment. Since it sells the sponsor's product, however, it will return next season.

As of the moment, the only distinguished drama one can expect to see originating from Hollywood next season will be on "Playhouse 90"—and there are rumors that some shows will come from New York following the successful taping of "For Whom the Bell Tolls" here.

"Biography," the 90-minute series which will alternate weekly on CBS-TV with "Playhouse 90," will originate in New York. George Schaefer has been signed to direct and produce six here for NBC-TV. Nearly all of "The Steady" new series bowing Thursday night on NBC-TV, music, comedy and drama on

Pair on Motorcycle Injured in Crash

Little Chute—Two men riding on a motorcycle were injured in an accident at Main avenue and Madison street Sunday afternoon.

James J. Seif, 24, route 3, Kaukauna, the driver, and Robert Hoffman, 23, Lamers hotel, Little Chute, both suffered cuts when the cycle collided with a car driven by Donald Schumacher, route 1, Kaukauna.

Schumacher told police he pulled out from an arterial and did not see the motorcycle traveling east on Main avenue. Police estimated the total damage at $138.

Find 11 Auto Defects During Safety Check

Little Chute — Village police conducted a safety check on 42 automobiles on N. Madison street and found 11 defects.

The defects ranged from burned out lights to non-working windshield wipers. Motorists with defective devices were ordered to have them taken care of.

NBC-TV will be produced here.

Talent Associates has an impressive list of productions scheduled—all live and from New York: nine for "Du Pont Show of the Month," eight Art Carney specials, a 90-minute Christmas Special, seven live dramas based on popular MGM movies to be co-produced with the studio and marking the entrance of MGM into live TV producing.

David Susskind, co-partner of Talent Associates who has long been a vociferous and vigorous exponent of New York as a production center, says that "in order to do good shows you have to do them in New York. This is where the talent is." Like several other TV producers and directors, he maintains that proximity to the Broadway theater offers a variety of acting talent that can't be found in Hollywood.

Business Center

On the other hand, Steve Allen, the only prominent TV personality moving his show to the coast next season, maintains that the talent necessary for a variety and comedy program is equally available on either coast.

There is another reason for the ascendancy of New York, however. This is the business center of television. Sponsors make their TV investments through agencies and networks here, and they like to be close to the scene of production on big and expensive specials.

School Board Approves Bills Of $26,846

Adds $1,500 for Additional Summer School Program

Bills totaling $26,846 were charged to the general fund of the Appleton schools budget by the board of education Monday night.

It also approved paying $55,074 to Daniel Huntley school buildings and $17,250 to Richmond school addition contractors.

Equipment orders totalling $1,361 were charged to the James Madison Junior High school building fund. Director of Business Affairs William Knuth said that no new purchase orders are being charged to the fund until landscaping is paid for.

Knuth reported that schools have received $1,175,857.98 of total receipts expected to reach $2,648,454.57. Expenses for the school year total $885,058, or $2,388 more than budgeted for the period. Fuel costs account for the overage.

No Restored Items

The board deferred acting on Knuth's request that items removed from this year's budget be restored in face of additional state aid. The state paid $19,000 more attendance aid than was projected last spring. Restored items would have totalled $20,005.

It approved, however, a $1,500 outlay requested by Supt. of Schools John P. Mann for additional summer school teachers. Mann will add a senior high school art course for capable students, a 3-week typing course for fifth and sixth graders and a 3-week science course for fifth graders.

Board also approved a $185 ad in the Post-Crescent, promoting James Madison school open house May 17. The ad says Mrs. Myrl M. Davis, vice president, asked that no short-Madison edition Saturday.

Board member Franklin C. Jesse told Knuth that he would push for a reduction in about $100, Knuth estimated.

AHS Spring Concert Set Wednesday

The annual spring concert of the Appleton High school music department will be at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the AHS auditorium. There is no admission charge.

More than 300 students will take part. Groups performing are the AHS concert band and the Terror band, directed by Frank Comella; the chorus, directed by Lester Schulz; and the orchestra, directed by Russell Thorne.

Soloists will appear in the orchestral part of the program. "Concerto Grosso No. 8" by Arcangelo Corelli, his Christmas concerto, will feature solos by Sharon Bauerlein and Fay Ryan, violins; Joanne Grobe, cello, and Pam Gruhn, piano. Miss Gruhn will play the organ with the orchestra "Prelude and Fugue in F" by Bach.

Terror Band

The Terror band will play three numbers, "Footlifter March" by Henry Fillmore, "Phantom Regiment" by Leroy Anderson, and "Beguine Festival" by Glenn Osser.

Featured by the concert band will be "Texas Portrait" by Ralph Harriman, and Holst's "Suite for Military Band in E-flat."

The 90-voice chorus has five numbers including medleys from Broadway musicals and some popular numbers.

To be heard in the chorus "Carousell" number are "June Is Busting Out All Over," "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Blow High, Blow Low," and "If I Loved You" fire insurance rates for the schools. "I have it on very good authority that we are eligible for a substantial reduction. There has been a general reduction in rates," he said.

Board permitted Knuth to arrange for plants for the outdoor planters at James Madison school. The plants will be moving James Madison school open house May 17. The ad says Mrs. Myrl M. Davis, vice president, asked that no short-Madison edition Saturday.

Board member Franklin C. Jesse told Knuth that he would push for a reduction in about $100, Knuth estimated.

Potato Water Bill Runs Into Party Fight

Early Consideration Of Irrigation Law Fails to Win Votes

Madison—An assembly vote on a senate bill today indicated legislation to make water available for water diversion for potato growers has been caught up in an inter-party struggle.

The Democratic-controlled assembly refused 37 to 55 to place a Republican-authored bill on Wednesday's calendar.

R. E. Peterson made the request, saying Waupaca county potato growers had to have some assurance of adequate water before they could plant.

The bill, authored by Sen. Earl Leverich, R-Sparta, is the same as an assembly bill passed almost unanimously last week and sent to the senate.

Both measures were modified to meet conservation interest objections and presumably would fill agricultural needs. The assembly bill was drafted by an interim committee.

Louis Merz, D-Milwaukee, urged the assembly to turn down Peterson's request. He said the assembly commerce and manufacturers committee, of which he is chairman, had worked hard to prepare the assembly bill. He said the senate should take some action on it.

The bills would extend another two years the right of potato growers to irrigate on certain no-riparian lands. It would not permit issuance of new permits. The conservation department would be empowered to veto certain permits affecting trout streams.

Red Cross Asks Reinstatement In City Schools

A plea from a Junior Red Cross representative to reinstate the program in Appleton public schools was deferred Monday night by the board of education.

Miss Kathryn Osborn, head of the Outagamie county Red Cross office, said she thought the board had not acted wisely when it decided not to permit such organizations to use school time for their programs or for fund raising.

The request was turned over to the education committee for study.

"It was going to be one of my major projects to get the Red Cross on its feet in the schools," Miss Osborn said.

The Red Cross program is integrated with social studies, music, art and reading programs, she noted. In the intermediate grades, scrapbooks are exchanged with children in foreign countries.

Parent Hits School Insurance

A complaint by Mrs. W. M. Van Horn, 827 E. Washington street, will result in a study of Appleton schools' accident insurance system, the board of education decided Monday night.

Mrs. Van Horn said that Wisconsin Interscholastic Athletic association insurance is inefficiently handled and pays only part of the bill.

"Our experience with the WIAA has not been satisfactory," she said.

The board will invite a WIAA representative to appear at the last meeting in June to explain the program. It may consider adding coverage for those students who desire it at students' expense.

The present program costs 75 cents a student for the year. The entire student body must be enrolled before the program is effective.

The show will be staged by youth librarian Miss Pat Ewen.

"Mischief in Fez" will be given at the 2 p.m. Saturday story hour by Miss Ewen who will wear some of her North African costumes.

Davis Urges Strong Stand for GOP Principles; Sees Need for Youth

BY JOHN WELLS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Sevens Point—Strong stands for party principles and incorporation of more youth into Republican ranks is necessary for a 1960 Republican victory, according to Glenn Davis, former Waukesha congressman.

Speaking at the seventh district GOP caucus Monday at Stevens Point, Davis told Republicans they must define party lines. Undefined lines mean the Republican voter may stay home from the polls and that the independent will swing Democratic, he said.

Davis also advised seventh district representatives not to shunt youth to the back door. He called youth the core of the party.

Davis used the proposed withholding tax for Wisconsin as an example of a stand Republicans could make in 1960.

He said the GOP must stand against the tax which is being sold on the basis that a windfall will come back to residents. We will pay in twice as much as we get back, said the former congressman.

The floundering and indecision of the present state administration was named as a 1960 Republican selling point.

by Robert Pierce, Menomonie, a national committee-man.

The party took a resolution stand against withholding tax which it said showed an "irresponsible lack of concern for the taxpayer's pocket-book."

The GOP also resolved to stop the federal urban renewal program which was called federally financed city planning.

Re-elected Seventh district chairman was Carl Sturm of Manawa. Other officers elected include Mrs. Fred Braun, Antigo, vice-chairman, Harvey LaChapelle, Wisconsin Rapids, treasurer, and Charles Wildermuth, Green Lake, secretary.

Soviets Repeat Pre-World War Propaganda

Concessions by West To Kremlin Can Cause Trouble

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Geneva — Throughout Europe the people have just celebrated the fourteenth anniversary of the ending of World war II on this continent. But, strangely enough, the villain who really made that war possible goes unmentioned and unscathed.

For it was the communist dictatorship in Moscow which 20 years ago formed a non-aggression alliance with the Nazi dictatorship in Berlin. This protected Hitler's eastern front from any danger and permitted him to deploy his entire military force against the West.

Eventually, because the Nazi dictatorship was given a free hand, millions of Russians were slaughtered as the Nazis turned against the Soviet Union. Likewise, millions of persons across Europe were killed because that 1939 alliance made by the communist dictator gave World War II its initial impetus.

Pious Claims

A communist government in Moscow again is propagandizing the world with proposals of non-aggression pacts and pious claims of peaceful intent. Its record, however, is one of opportunistic alliances with dictatorships in red China and the Middle East. As the 4-power foreign ministers conference begins here, the torship in East Germany but communists are aiming at concessions that will enable Germany. It plans to keep them to strengthen their military position in Europe.

Actually a free Germany was never a menace. When the Weimar republic was overthrown by Hitler, the true will of the German people was ignored.

Three Injured In Calumet Auto Mishaps

Collins Man Hurt When Car Overtakes Near Intersection

Chilton—Three people were injured in weekend accidents reported in Calumet county.

Elroy W. Cardinahl, 24, Collins, was taken to Calumet Memorial hospital with back and possible internal injuries after he lost control of his car and it overturned near the intersection of Highway 114 and JJ Monday.

Cardinahl, who was alone in his car, was unable to make a statement to police. Markings at the accident scene indicated the car was traveling north when it left 114, hit a sign post, overturned and righted itself heading south. The car was demolished.

Beaches Fall

George A. Buechel, 19, route 1, Chilton, was taken to Calumet Memorial by the Pfeiffer ambulance with a severe cut in the back of his head, after his brakes failed and the car left the road about 2 a.m. Sunday. The accident occurred on County Trunk F a mile east of Highway 55.

Buechel told patrolmen that he slowed for an intersection, but brakes on the car did not hold. He crossed the road, hit a ditch and the car overturned.

Michael Buchinger, 70, route 3, Kaukauna, was hospitalized at Kaukauna Community hospital with back and chest injuries received in an accident about 9:50 a.m. Saturday, a quarter-mile west of 55 on 114.

Buchinger pulled to the shoulder of the road when he thought a man on a tractor in a field was trying to hail him.

Burglar Has Good Time, Bakes Cake

Mahomet, Ill. — Sheriff William Fairfield said a burglar broke into the Carl A. Bays cabin, broke mirrors and lights and sprayed silver paint and shaving cream all over the place.

Also, all the gas jets in the kitchen were turned on, emptying the gas cylinders, but not before the vandal baked himself a chocolate cake.

Former Convict Gets Good Head Start

Oklahoma City — A former convict, surrounded by police outside a building he was burglarizing, said he saw he could not escape. Before officers moved in and made an arrest he telephoned his lawyer.

23, route 4, Appleton, traveling behind, struck the rear of the Buchinger car as it slowed.

Grange Chapter Confers Degrees

Sportsmen Balk at Any-Deer Plan for Outagamie County

Slim Turnout of 33 OKs Other Proposed Deer-Hunting Rules

BY JAY REED Post-Crescent Outdoor Editor

Outagamie county sportsmen Monday night approved the state's proposed 1959 deer hunting regulations but balked at a suggestion the county open itself to an any-deer harvest.

Thirty-three citizens, a stenographer, two representatives of the Conservation department and one game warden convened amid a preponderance of empty chairs in the courthouse annex to pass upon proposed changes in laws governing next fall's hunting and next summer's fishing.

The deer plan calls for a Nov. 14 opening in that area north of Highway 8 across Wisconsin from east state line to west. The southern zone, so-called, and the Mississippi river zone will open one week later and continue through Nov. 29. Legal targets will be spike bucks or better with the party permit system (in some form not yet made clear) in force in all but the Mississippi area and certain deer management regions.

Although the vote was fairly close (14 for, 18 against) on the question concerning any-deer season here, most of the testimony came from those persons opposing such a rule. Most appeared agreed the county has sufficient deer to stand such a season but there was fear the increased hunting pressure such a rule would bring would create an extreme safety factor.

At other points in the hearing the sportsmen:

Favored waterfowl shooting hours same as federal government permits.

Opposed bag limit of one goose on the Horicon refuge.

Favored prohibiting the use of permanent water fowl blinds on inland waters.

Opposed statewide bag limit of six Canada geese.

Opposed no closed season on raccoon.

Favored statewide late bow

Packers Sign Healed Helluin And Ken Kerr

Veteran Tackle Says He Is Feeling Great

BY ART DALEY Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay—Is this the year Jerry Helluin and Dave Hanner get some competition at defensive tackle?

Coach - General Manager Vince Lombardi announced the signing of veteran Helluin and rookie tackle Ken Kerr, a 275-pounder out of Arizona State at Tempe, Monday night and added special word from Jerry that his shoulder is completely healed.

Helluin came to the Packers in a trade with the Browns in 1954. He and Hanner had hardly missed a defensive play for four straight years, although Jerry was shaken up a bit in the third game in '54.

'Feels Great'

Some competition was cooked up for the hard - working pair in '58 in the persons of J. D. Kimmel and Ray Krause, both obtained in trades. That went out the window quick. Krause was awarded to Baltimore when, due to family problems, he asked that he remain in the East. And, Helluin suffered a shoulder separation during a non-league game and was out for the season, leaving Hanner and Kimmel.

LA Stays Within Half-Game of Lead; Giants Wallop Pirates

By The Associated Press

Memo to baseball fans in Los Angeles: your Dodgers are now back to normal—coming from behind, booting the other club ahead, then scrambling from behind again only to lose the lead before winning an 11-10 ball game on a squeeze bunt in the ninth.

That's exactly the way they beat Philadelphia in Los Angeles Monday night, staying within a half-game of Milwaukee's National league-leading Braves with that 11-10 decision. It wasn't neat, but it was the Dodgers' third straight win by one run.

Wallop Pittsburgh

The Braves retained their lead the easy way, belting the Chicago Cubs 8-1 in an afternoon game. San Francisco's fourth - place Giants also breezed, wallowing Pittsburgh, 14-4, in the only other game scheduled in the NL.

Norm Larker laid down the bunt that brought in the winner for the Dodgers. Don Demeter opened the ninth with a double against losing reliever Jim Hearn (0-1). A couple of walks, sandwiching a sacrifice, loaded the bases. Larker then bunted perfectly on the first pitch by Ray Sempach, the Phils' fifth pitcher.

The Phils had run up a 3-0 lead in three innings against Dodger starter Stan Williams, but Los Angeles tied it in the fourth on an RBI single by Duke Snider, the first hit off Jim Owens, and a 2-run single by John Roseboro. Then the Phils scored six in the fifth—two on Ed Bouchee's 2-out homer and the rest unearned on errors by Charlie Neal, who had handled 182 chances perfectly since last Sept. 10, and Don Zimmer.

Run-Scoring Single

The Dodgers then got three more in the fifth and a tying three in the sixth capped by Demeter's run-scoring single. A walk, sacrifice and Junior Gilliam's single gave the Milwaukee Second Baseman Johnny O'Brien, rifles the ball to first for a double play in the fifth inning of Monday's game after forcing out a sliding Tony Taylor. The play began when Braves shortstop Johnny Logan scooped up Lee Wall's grounder and tossed to O'Brien. The Braves beat the Cubs, 8-1.

Mathews Hammers 12th Homer

Chicago — — Bob Buhl pitched seven innings for the Milwaukee Braves Monday—good for an 8-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs. He sparked all the way, too.

"My arm felt a little strong," Buhl said in the dressing room. "It's been that way since I returned to action last year. It's in great shape."

Buhl's performance, his first victory of the season, set the top brass of the National league champion baseball team to wondering if this was the man to offer as trade bait after all.

General Manager John McHale has not tried to keep it secret that Milwaukee is highly interested in infielder Al Dark of the Cubs.

Put on Display

And before the start of Monday's contest the locker room hierarchy indicated that Buhl was being put on display for Chicago's management.

"The Braves made a pitch for Dark during spring training," Chicago Manager Bob Scheffing said, "but what they offered was pretty much nothing."

"Sure, we need pitching, but Dark is our regular third baseman right now even though he's a shortstop by profession. He's been in 24 out of 29 games. We didn't use him Monday because of a pulled muscle, but we need him," Scheffing added.

Buhl gave up only five hits before Manager Fred Haney took him out of the game. Haney said he thought Buhl was getting tired because he hadn't gone that far in a long time. Buhl, however, didn't agree.

"That ball of mine was moving even better than at the start," Buhl said. "I wasn't tired. The idea of being traded doesn't bother me either. Why should it? As long as my arm feels great as it does now and I get a chance to pitch, I'm not worried about a thing."

Buhl added, though, that he wasn't anxious to leave the Braves because it was a championship club. He also admitted that he would like to pitch regularly for the Braves because it helps out in the financial column.

"A guy would be foolish to want to be traded from a pennant organization," Buhl said.

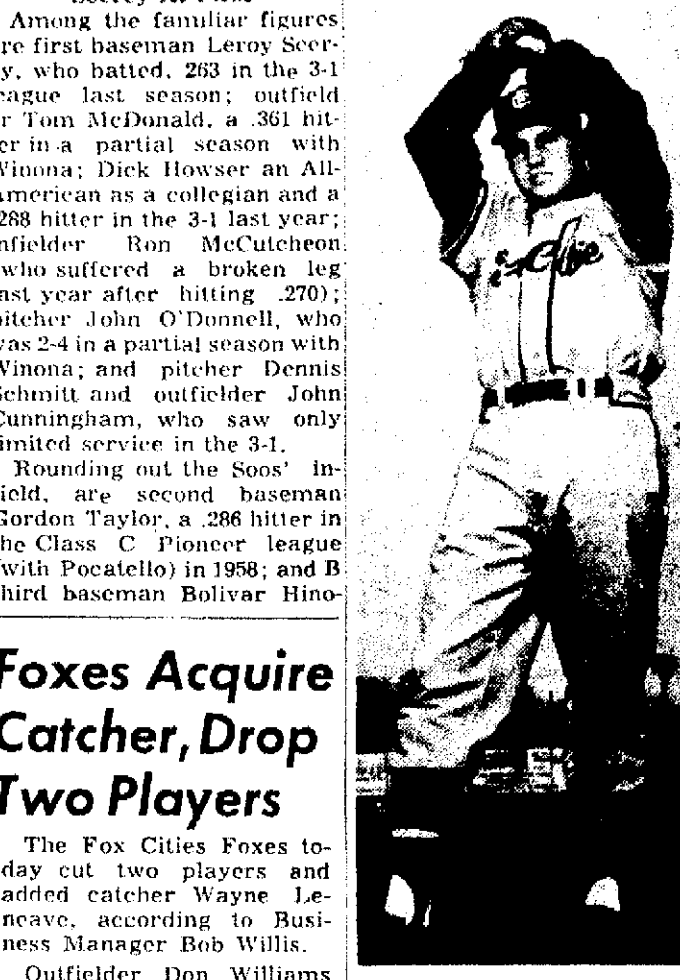

Buhl made only one other start this season, an encounter with Pittsburgh that saw him back in the dugout after two dismal innings. He hurled only a third of an inning last week and so far in 1959 has seen service in only nine.

2nd Logan Homer

McHale and John Holland, general manager of the Cubs, got together before the start of the game for a long talk. McHale denied that Buhl was mentioned during the discussion.

Johnny Logan swatted his second homer of the season in the fourth inning and Ed

Palmer Wins Oklahoma City Open on 273

Finishes 2 Strokes
Ahead of Goalby,
Wins $3,500

Oklahoma City—A flock of professional golfers headed for Arkansas today, quite happy that one of their group was taking a brief vacation.

That player, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., could well afford one even if he extended it for the rest of the year. He picked up $3,500 Monday for winning the $25,000 Oklahoma City open with a 15-under-par score of 273 over the Twin Hills Country club course.

Palmer said he would be unable to play in the $15,000 Hot Springs open starting Thursday and would miss the Memphis and Louisville tournaments because of other business and the fact that he needed a rest from the tournament grind.

His next appearance will be in Washington, D. C., June 1, where he will try to qualify for the National open championship, June 11-13.

Palmer's victory here boosted his bankroll to $15,490 for the year. He pocketed $45,000 as the top money winner last year.

The 29-year old par smasher finished with only two strokes to spare over a promising newcomer, Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill., now playing out of Crystal River, Fla. Goalby was in the thick of the battle in the final round, shooting a 67 for second place money of $2,300 and this increased his year's earnings to $7,379.

Dodgers lead for the first time, 10-9, in the seventh against Dick Farrell, but winning reliever Art Fowler (2-2) gave up a tying home run by pinch-hitter Gene Freese in the eighth. It was Freese's third hit of the season—all pinch homers.

The game took 3 hours, 38 minutes, just 5 minutes shy of the NL record for nine innings set by St. Louis and Chicago in 1954.

The Giants, rolling up their highest run total of the season without benefit of a home run, were off and running with four unearned runs in the fourth against loser Bennie Daniels (0-1). They got six in the sixth, with Bob Schmidt socking his second 2-run double of the game. Jack Sanford 3-2 was the winner, blanking the Buccs on four hits until the seventh, when Ted Kluszewski doubled and Bob Skinner homered. Klu's second double counted another in the eighth, and Dick Stuart hit a pinch homer in the ninth.

Kerr is figured on as an offensive tackle—at the moment. The coaches could shift him in practice.

The newcomer stands 6-2 and has what scouts called "real good speed." In sprints, Kerr can stay with the backs for 40 to 50 yards—which isn't easy for a 275-pounder. Kerr can also play offensive guard.

Manager Fred Haney sent Don McMahon on to handle the last of the eighth for Buhl. Bob Giggie came in and held the Cubs hitless in the ninth.

Hank Aaron added to the Milwaukee attack with a triple and a single off loser Moe Drabowsky in four trips to the plate to boost his average to .406. It was Aaron's seventeenth straight game of hitting safely.

Buhl struck out four and walked three. The Braves scored five runs in the eighth inning on five hits, a walk and a sacrifice and an error.

A pinch single by Mickey Vernon scored two of the Milwaukee runs.

Dale Long singled for the Cubs in the seventh inning to send home Bobby Thomson, on with a double.

Gordon Says 'Everyone Plays Well Against Us'

Cleveland Manager Thinks Yankees Can Be Had

BY ED CORRIGAN

New York.—Joe Gordon, headmaster of the surprising Cleveland Indians, is getting a whiff of the upper air of first place in the American league but he still has a complaint.

"So far nobody has played poorly against us," Gordon said while preparing to lead his club against the New York Yankees tonight.

"We hear of other teams making mistakes here and there but guys like Al Smith, Gene Woodling and Del Ennis kill us with star catches."

Alop Herd

The Indians are riding atop the herd, a game and a half in front of the second-place Chicago White Sox. They dropped a doubleheader to the Pale Hose Sunday and so now they have to pull themselves together again.

FVL Track Team Set for Invitational Scores Easy Victory Over Northwestern

The Fox Valley Lutheran track team will compete in the Lutheran Invitational meet in Milwaukee Saturday.

In their most recent start, the Foxes whipped Northwestern of Watertown, 704-284.

FVL's Ron Olm was the only double winner, capturing the 100 and the 200-yard dashes. No hurdle events were held in the meet on the Wilson Junior High track.

Other schools entered in the Lutheran invitational meet are Milwaukee Lutheran, Wisconsin Lutheran, Racine Lutheran, Winnebago Lutheran and Northwestern.

Aberdeen broke up a 10-10 tie in the last inning Monday night with five runs to beat Grand Forks, 15-10, and protect its unbeaten Northern league record.

St. Cloud ruined Duluth-Superior's home opener with a 4-2 victory. Fargo-Moorhead defeated Eau Claire, 9-6, and the Minot-Winnipeg game was postponed.

Nelson Seeks to Double State Park Spending

But Governor Fails To Say From Where Funds Will Come

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison.—Apparently giving up hope for legislative approval of the park admissions fee bill, Gov. Nelson has disclosed that his conservation department budget recommendation soon to be transmitted to the legislature will contain provision for doubling the department's spending authority for parks improvement and maintenance.

The money won't come from a diversion of hunting and fishing game receipts, he hastened to add, but the governor was not explicit in describing the manner in which the $500,000 in extra spending power will be provided.

He suggested that some of it may come from the state highway department, which now finances state park and recreational forest road services.

Compute Money
He has asked the department to compute the amount of additional park road money that would be needed to maintain the ratio of expenditure of a decade ago.

Nelson said his conservation department budget bill also will contain provision for two other favorite objectives

Air-Rail Terminal Prospect Strymies Return-Depot Plea

Possibility of a combined air-rail terminal is causing passenger facilities from the public safety committee to withhold action on a resolution asking the Chicago and North Western to move its passenger depot back downtown.

Chairman Ald. Thomas K. Schneider told his committee Monday it would be unreasonable to ask the railroad to move back downtown and then shortly after ask the railroad to move again.

Ald. Austin N. Tucker has called for council action asking the railroad to return passenger facilities from the Appleton Junction depot.

The railroad moved to Appleton Junction a year ago, citing the prospects of a savings and pressure by city officials to get it out of the congested 1-way street area.

Wisconsin GI Held in Kansas For Robbery

Wichita, Kan.—(U)—Two soldiers—one from Wisconsin—were charged with armed robbery, grand larceny and kidnapping Monday.

Niklis G. Hotchkiss, 17, of Knapp, Wis., and Raymond W. Rynes, 26, Bovina Center, N. Y., were arraigned before Common Pleas Judge Rorn Raun.

Hotchkiss and Rynes were AWOL from Ft. Story, Va., with two companions, James Seaman, 19, Waynoka, Okla., and Roger D. Fred, 17, Clarkston, Wash.

Authorities said Travis I. Cook, 36, a Lamar, Colo., rancher told of Hotchkiss and Rynes hitching a ride into Wichita Sunday night, telling him their car had broken down. Cook said they then took his car and $12.50, leaving him bound in a field. Cook freed himself and telephoned the sheriff.

Seaman and Fred were held for military authorities.

Cuba's National Lottery Aims to Reduce Gambling

Havana — The new national lottery is taking in $11 million a week. It's designed to encourage thrift yet meet the Cuban's liking for a gamble. Profits are allotted to rent housing. As this lottery is set up, any profits will be a to be seen. That will depend on how many Cubans hold on to the graft that characterized the regime of deposed dictator Fulgencio Batista. The old lottery department had on its payroll 3,684 persons who did not work, the revolutionary government says. The old lottery had several parallel betting schemes, one of them a numbers game called bolita. The big bolita bankers got rich and paid Batista's police thousands in graft. The revolutionary government set up a national institute of savings and housing. It is headed by a woman rebel, plump and energetic Miss Pastorita Nunez. She already has begun construction of 2,400 low-rent houses, 1,200 in East Havana and 1,200 in Santiago de Cuba. She borrowed $2 million to get the housing work rolling before "bonds" in the first week of the new lottery program had all been sold. Fifty thousand "bonds" at $25 each are sold weekly. Fractions can be purchased for 25 cents. A non-winning bondholder can cash in his ticket any time in the first year at 40 per cent of face value. After one year the value is 50 per cent, after two years 60 per cent and so on. The Castro government feels that gambling has been a real vice in Cuba and its hold on the people must be lessened. "The habit of saving should replace the habit of gambling," the government said in announcing the new lottery. The plan is to gradually reduce the amount of prizes so as to lessen the gambling element and emphasize the savings feature. Miss Nunez set an austerity note in running her department. She will take in pay the $125 a month she earns as a lieutenant in the rebel army. The lottery department chief always had a car and chauffeur. She had the car sold at auction and rides buses to and from work. Chief Has Fire Waynoka, Okla. — Police Chief H. O. Stephens made a U-turn downtown and immediately realized he had broken a traffic law. He issued himself a citation and the next day paid a $2 fine.

Gains at Opening Of Trade Give Way To Irregularity

New York — (P) — The stock market turned irregular early this afternoon after an initial advance lost its steam.

Gains and losses of key stocks went from fractions to a point, generally. A few selected issues moved more widely.

Profit taking was in evidence as the market seemed to be completing a recovery move which has put it higher in the past two sessions.

Thiokol tripped to a loss of about 5 while Philadelphia & Reading dropped another 8 points or so. Beckman Instruments was off about 2 and General Instrument about a point.

Zenith added more than 2. Avco and Sperry Rand were fractional gainers.

The opening of Disney was delayed more than two hours due to a pile up of sell orders apparently occasioned by drastically lower earnings. The stock dropped 3 1/2 to 5 1/2 on an initial block of 7,000 shares.

Chrysler was active and up more than a point while Ford showed about a 1-point loss. American Motors had a fractional gain. General Motors also added a fraction.

U. S. Gypsum dropped more than a point. Minor plus signs were displayed by Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelt, Phelps Dodge and International Nickel.

U. S. Steel and Bethlehem shaded off while small gains were posted for Republic Steel and Jones & Laughlin.

U. S. government bonds held at the new lows reached Monday.
